INCENDIARY FIRES STARTED BY MOBS

Wild Scenes of Lawlessness Mark Continuance of the Race War in Springfield, Ohio. Eight Companies of Militia on Duty.

SPRINGFIELD O., Feb. 28.—With eight companies of state troops on guard in this city as a result of last night's conflagration in which six houses were burned in the colored residence district, only a incendiary fires were started again tonight in various parts of the city. In every instance the houses were occupied by negroes or negroes and whites. A negro house at Harrison and York streets was shot by a large crowd, but the occupants escaped. The fire was put out by the firemen and at Central avenue shots were fired at the firemen. Even while this was going on some of the members of the mob who were at a safe distance from the scenes stoned the houses of negroes, windows being riddled with rocks as they ran.

SPRINGFIELD O., Feb. 28.—The riot and race war begun here last night as a result of the shooting of M. M. Davis, a railroad man by Ladd and Dean, colored, was continued tonight, the eight companies of troops called out to assist the local officials in preserving order not being able to prevent the destruction of houses at the hands of the mob. Up to midnight no casualties had occurred and the riot consisted mainly of marauding mobs, which either set fire to or stoned the homes of negroes. Hundreds of people were in the streets and the excitement continues intense. Martin M. Davis, the brakeman shot by the two negroes, Dean and Ladd, is pronounced to be dying tonight. Davis is the son of a Columbus attorney.

A committee of lawyers, consisting of City Solicitor Tatum, Charles E. Stewart and Paul Staley, has been appointed to prosecute the case against the rioters. A mass meeting has been called for tomorrow night.

At 2 o'clock this morning the military seems to have the riot situation well in hand and no further serious trouble is anticipated. Many negroes left the city during yesterday and last night, the traction cars between here and Dayton carrying in all several hundred. Many have also gone to Xenia, Hamilton and Cincinnati. Colonel Amel, in charge of the militia, is pursuing the rioters with vigor, and as a result 30 arrests on charges of rioting have been made. The station has been filled with men and boys held on suspicion. One man, John Pleasant, was shot by a negro in the east end late tonight.

FACE GRAND JURY TODAY

CASE AGAINST MOYER ET AL. TO BE INVESTIGATED AT ONCE.

MORE DETAILS ABOUT ARRANGEMENT OF INFERNAL MACHINES—PREVIOUS ATTEMPTS AT MURDER.

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 28.—It has been definitely decided that the investigation of the case against Moyer and his associates for the murder of former Governor Frank Steunenberg shall begin before the grand jury at Caldwell tomorrow. It is not known whether Harry Orchard, who is said to have confessed to his part in the crime, will be taken before the jury.

In the statement made by Governor Gooding, respecting the confession made by Orchard, it was stated that the prisoner had told of two unsuccessful attempts to slay the former governor, one of these was an effort to shoot him at his home a week or so before the murder. A favorable opportunity did not arrive.

Prior to that, it seemed a bomb was laid in the pathway taken by the governor. It was arranged with a wire stretched across the path. The intended victim, however, unconsciously stepped over the wire and never knew how close he had been to death. That was the same bomb afterward used for killing him. The bomb was like the one laid for Justice Goddard in Denver, having a bottle of sulphuric acid so arranged that the cork would be drawn by a pull on the wire. When the successful attempt was made a long fishline was attached to the wire, the bomb being tied to the inside of the gate post. A pull on the line fired the infernal machine and accomplished the object. The unsuccessful attempt was made in November. Orchard spent two weeks there in that month from the 7th to the 22nd.

DENVER, Feb. 28.—According to Harry Orchard's alleged confession, it was learned here today the bomb with which ex-Governor Steunenberg was killed at Caldwell, Idaho, December 30 last, was manufactured in Denver. Orchard, it is said, confessed to having secured the lead receptacle in which the explosives were placed from Charles T. Roach, a plumber, at 1651 Court place, diagonally across the street from the furniture store of George A. Pettibone, one of the suspects now under arrest in Idaho. Mr. Roach said today that he recollected making this lead receptacle and gave a description of the man who ordered it, which tallies with that of Orchard.

DENVER, Feb. 28.—Governor McDonald today denied that he had issued a requisition for Vincent St. John, one of the officers of the Western Federation of Miners, now in prison at Boise. "I have not been asked to issue a requisition for St. John," said the governor.

St. John was president of the miners

NAVAL BUDGET IS AGREED ON

NEW GOVERNMENT ACCEPTS PREDECESSOR'S ESTIMATE FOR ENSUING YEAR.

OIL TO BE LARGELY USED IN BRITISH SHIPS IN FUTURE. MANY IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—[illegible] budget for the navy, which was adopted [illegible] the policy of economy and retrenchment and economy [illegible] by the admiralty in the shadow resulting from the Russo-Japanese war. In view of the destruction of the Russian sea power and the Anglo-Japanese alliance and the Anglo-French entente, the government considers it possible without detracting from efficiency, to call a halt in the constantly increasing naval expenditure. [illegible] Chancellor last December foreshadowed a reduction of $7,500,000, and this with the reduction of $17,500,000 effected last year, amounts to $25,000,000 is knocked off the naval expenditure [illegible]. The government gives no details of the new program, but it is understood that the projected four armored vessels will be large battleships. The naval estimates for 1906-7 propose a net total expenditure of $158,047,500, being $12,500,000 less than the estimates for the present fiscal year.

Oil will be largely used in the British navy in the future. The first lord of the admiralty remarks that the question of firing guns by dynamo power has been settled and that wireless telegraphy has been extended. Three new stations will be erected. The comfort of the crews is receiving greater attention, improved appliances for cooking as well as bakeries being introduced. Many improvements have been introduced in the dock yards and training schools.

It has been decided to reduce the royal marines by 1,500 men.

POLITICAL DEATH OF COALITION PREDICTED

BUDAPEST, Feb. 28.—In response to a long manifesto of the coalition urging the nation to steadfastly resist the absolutist regime, and to an open letter from Count Andrassy to the electors deprecating revolution but advising the people to refuse to pay taxes and to offer themselves as recruits, a government communication was published today which at considerable length details the emperor-king's fruitless efforts at compromise and argues from the fact that the Hungarian people have remained quiet in spite of all the coalition's agitation that this tranquility betokens the political death sentence of the coalition. The document concludes with hinting that any attempt to adopt the coalition's refractory counsels may indefinitely postpone the elections.

DOMINICAN TREATY IS BEFORE SENATE

Reported in Executive Session by Senator Lodge With Several Important Amendments Made by the Committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The treaty between the United States and the Dominican republic which [illegible] the customs revenues of the latter was reported to the senate in executive session today by Senator Lodge.

A number of very important amendments to the treaty were made by the committee. Action was entirely unanimous, and it is certainly sanctioned. It reads as follows:

"The United States, while this treaty is being executed, may take such steps as it may deem proper to preserve order and facilitate the accomplishment of the purpose thereof.

A Disputed Point.

For more than a year this article has been the subject of dispute in the committee. Republicans and Democrats were opposed to it, but on very different grounds. The latter, by caucus action having determined to oppose the treaty in its entirety, left the Republicans free to agree upon some amendment satisfactory to the latter. Therefore, in rewriting the amendment, the committee eliminated the authority given to the Dominican republic to demand and receive assistance from this government. The article now provides that the United States may grant, upon its own initiative, such relief as it desires. Further amendment of this article is contemplated and may be drafted by Senator Spooner. It is said it will follow lines similar to an amendment proposed by Secretary Root and will authorize the United States to land troops for the protection of Americans engaged in the collection of customs.

Two New Sections.

There were added to the treaty two new sections which are intended to more definitely protect the United States in all monetary dealings with the creditors of the Dominican republic. The new sections are numbered 9 and 10, and are as follows:

"The purposes of this treaty being such as are stated in the preamble hereto, the United States shall not in any event be held liable to the government or people of Santo Domingo for any loss or damage or injury to the persons or property of any of the creditors of the Dominican republic or any claimant of debt or damages against Santo Domingo, which may be considered to accrue or death with in relation to this treaty by the United States, its agents or officers, except such as shall be assumed in any award. All decisions and awards adopted by the United States, its agents and officers in pursuance of the provisions of this treaty shall be exclusively binding upon the government and people of San Domingo.

"The United States is not bound by this treaty to consider or decide on any claim presented to it for adjudication, adjustment or settlement unless the government of which the claimant is a citizen or subject has given its consent that the decision thereof by the United States its agents or officers thereunto duly empowered, shall be accepted as final and conclusive. And in the event shall the United States be bound to make any payment of award or any part thereof to the claimant until the money to pay the same shall have been received from the Dominican government under the provisions of this treaty and until the same has been set apart by the duly authorized agent or officer of the United States to be applied to said award."

Another Amendment.

Another amendment gives to the United States instead of to the Dominican republic the right to determine in what manner the debts of the republic shall be paid. A further amendment provides the following:

"The custom receipts or moneys which shall come into said be in the custody of the agents of the United States, acting in San Domingo and the provisions thereof, shall not be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of Santo Domingo; nor shall the agents of the United States discharging functions under this treaty be subject to the criminal jurisdiction of the courts of Santo Domingo except with the con-

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 28.—The members of the state land board when asked about the threatened suit announced in press dispatches from La Crosse, Wis., by F. J. Tolland, to compel the board to issue deeds for his certificates of sale for state lands stated that they had no fear of the outcome of such a suit. The board can prove, they say, that the certificates presented by Mr. Tolland were never issued by the board and that they are not genuine. They come under the head of counterfeits, rather than forgeries, it was stated.

ROYAL COUPLE NOT HURT IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—There is very slight basis in fact for the reports cabled to the United States today that Prince Eitel Frederick and his bride, Princess Sophie, had been injured in an automobile accident. The couple entered an auto car last night at a station near the Huberlosstok hunting lodge, 30 miles north of Berlin, where they are spending their honeymoon. A team of horses took fright and ran away, dashing the wagon against the auto car and breaking a window of the latter vehicle. No one in the auto car was even bruised.

DEFY LEGISLATURE

Kansas Railroads Adopt a New Oil Freight Rate.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 28.—Representatives of all the railroads of Kansas met here today and fixed a new schedule of oil freight rates in Kansas in defiance of the maximum freight rate law passed by the last Kansas legislature. The schedule agreed upon today amounts to an increase of 50 per cent of the present schedule, which has been in effect since the passage of the maximum freight rate law. The new rate will be about the same as the one in effect before the maximum rate law was passed. It is said the action of the Kansas railway traffic officials today will affect the independent oil shippers of Kansas more disastrously than any of the other patrons of Kansas railroads. The Standard Oil company, having a monopoly on oil tanks, will not suffer from the new schedule of freight rates as will the independent oil men who are forced to ship their oil in barrels.

SPECIAL AGENT FOR GOVERNMENT ON STAND—DENIES STATEMENTS OF ARTHUR COMPANY'S SUIT.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—E. D. Durand, special agent for the government, was on the stand all day in the hearing of the packers' pleas for immunity, and will continue his evidence tomorrow. He contradicted the evidence given by witnesses for packers in several instances, the most notable being where he most flatly denied the statement made by Arthur Meeker, the general superintendent for Armour and company while on the stand.

Mr. Meeker declared that while a witness he had answered all questions put to him by Mr. Durand, and Mr. Durand today denied this. Mr. Durand also said that he asked A. H. Veeder, general counsel for Swift and company, and one of the men under indictment in the present case, to give evidence during the investigation by Commissioner Garfield under oath, and that Mr. Veeder replied that he would do nothing of the kind for the reason that it might destroy the chance of immunity for the packers.

Late in the day Judge Humphrey, who had declared soon after court opened that he could not admit as evidence letters that passed between Mr. Durand and Commissioner Garfield during the investigation, altered his decision and admitted the letters.

The correspondent at Shanghai of The Tribune says that eyewitnesses at Nanchang assert that a priest, named La Cruche, stabbed the magistrate twice in the throat.

The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent says that a dispute about land was the origin of the trouble at Nanchang. The correspondent adds:

"It is felt here that the official rank of Catholic missionaries is a source of difficulty and ought to be withdrawn."

SHANGHAI, Feb. 28.—The Nanchang magistrate, the injury to whom was the reputed immediate cause of the attack by natives on Catholic and Protestant missionaries a few days ago, is still alive, although his wounds are dangerous. In his decision today Judge Armour reviewed the cases at length and stated that Judge Guthiel was largely responsible for the trouble.

Judge Guthiel appeared and asked Judge Armour to withhold his decision for 15 days so that he might obtain a writ of prohibition from the supreme court. Allan and Webster, attorneys for the prisoners, objected on the ground that Guthiel was no longer a party in the case and Judge Armour sustained the objection of the attorneys and discharged the prisoners.

IMPASSIONED SPEECHES AT COAL OPERATORS' MEETING

PITTSBURG, Feb. 28.—Before the conference of bituminous coal operators of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, opened today, it was generally conceded that the proposition to grant a 5.55 per cent advance would be laid before the operators and that it would meet with opposition from some of the independent operators, who freely expressed themselves as against granting any increase in wages at this time.

The conference opened shortly before noon and all but members of the state committees were excluded. Thos present were—Pennsylvania, P. L. Dobbins, John Jones, George A. Magoun; Ohio, J. H. Winder, H. L. Chapman, F. M. Osborn, T. E. Young; Indiana, J. C. Coulson, A. M. Ogle, J. H. Gilbert; Hugh Sherkif, J. Smith, Tally; Illinois, H. M. Taylor, Colonel O. L. Garrison.

The conference adjourned about 1 o'clock and the announcement was made that it had decided to issue a call for a general conference to be held in Indianapolis on Monday, March 19.

A statement issued by the joint committee in explanation of the action taken, says:

In issuing a request for a conference of the coal operators of the four states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania, at Indianapolis, on March 19, it is positively stated by all the operators joining in this call that said meeting has been called entirely in deference to the wishes of the president of the United States, and that no action has been taken or agreement of any kind has been made by any operator up to this date regarding any possible settlement of existing difficulties. No settlement is possible on any terms until after such meeting has been held and the individual views of all the operators of the four states have been obtained.

Neither Chairman Robbins of the Pittsburg Coal company, who presided at the meeting, nor any of the operators present would say anything after the meeting tonight beyond statements given out during the day. It was learned that the meeting was most tumultuous and several of the operators present expressed themselves in impassioned speeches. The Indiana and Ohio operators stood as a body against granting the 5.5 advance while the Illinois and Pittsburg district operators were divided. The independent operators of the Pittsburg district firmly opposed the suggestion for the advance. Mr. Robbins took occasion to deny, and in an emphatic manner, that he had any understanding with President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, to restore the scale of two years ago. President John H. Winder of the Sunday Creek company, Columbus, Ohio, which is the largest producer in Ohio and has a large operating interest in West Virginia, hotly contested the suggestion of any advance being made. Mr. Winder is recognized as the head of the J. P. Morgan interests in the bituminous coal trade.

It was reported here tonight that President Roosevelt had requested John Mitchell and Mr. Robbins to call on him within the next two weeks, but the report could not be confirmed.

George A. Magoun, vice president of the Pittsburg and Westmoreland Coal company, and a member of the scale committee, said tonight:

"Several of the men at the meeting were opposed to calling another convention of operators but out of respect to President Roosevelt we resolved to call a meeting. That does not mean that we will meet the miners. About 800 operators must say whether we will do that."

union at Telluride when the assassinations of Arthur Collins and J. W. Barney occurred.

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 28.—Attorney Fred Miller, who was employed some weeks ago as counsel for Harry Orchard, secured an order from Judge Smith, who will try the Steunenberg case at Caldwell, permitting him to see his client.

When the lawyer went to the penitentiary this morning, he was put off by the warden until this afternoon. Mr. Miller expressed doubt that Orchard's confession implicates the Western Federation of Miners, but says that if such a statement has been made, he expects to learn the exact facts by seeing Orchard. He hopes in this manner to ascertain what the defense must meet. The prosecution, for reasons known only to themselves are guarding the prisoner. Orchard, more closely than any of the other men under arrest in this case. Floyd Thompson, representative of the Colorado Mine Owners' association, who is here from Cripple Creek, is said to want the prisoner Vincent St. John in connection with the murder of Arthur Collins, at Telluride.

Detective McParland has stated that St. John is not implicated in the Steunenberg assassination by Orchard's confession. It is stated that St. John will be taken to Colorado when his extradition can be arranged.

An interesting story was told last night by one of the detectives concerning the career of Harry Orchard, whose confession to the assassination of former Governor Steunenberg has brought within the toils of the law men high in official positions with the Western Federation of Miners.

According to this story, Harry Orchard was born in a little town in Michigan, a suburb of Detroit. He was educated in the public schools. His parents are both dead, his mother having died within the last few years. Orchard on coming west, first turned up in Butte, where he went under the name of Thomas Williams. He worked there as a miner for a time, later becoming a professional gambler. From Butte it is thought that he went direct to the Coeur d'Alene district, in Idaho. He was in the Coeur d'Alenes during the trouble there in March, 1899, but left there in April, 1899, and went to Salt Lake. From Salt Lake he went to Provo, Utah, where for a time he worked as a miner and then returned to Salt Lake. In 1902 Orchard went from Salt Lake to Cripple Creek in company with Arthur Doolin. Doolin is the man with whom Orchard is said to have gone on a fishing trip from Salt Lake last summer just previous to coming to Idaho to murder former Governor Steunenberg.

Orchard began work as a miner at Independence in 1902, and in 1903 he married Mrs. Toney, a widow, who had two small children and several thousand dollars left her by her former husband. Orchard is said to have squandered the money, but did not desert his wife until forced to leave the camp on the night of the explosion at the Independence railroad station.

Mrs. Orchard has been loyal to her husband all through his trouble, and has maintained his innocence even since the news of his confession has been made public. She is now supporting herself and children, the eldest being about twelve years of age.

The detectives learned during their investigations of Orchard's career at Independence that during this period he became acquainted with a man who gave the name of John Thompson at Mrs. E. M. Nevill's boarding house, and that he stole Thompson's trunk, gold watch, pearl-handled revolver and forty pounds of high-grade ore. These were pawned by Orchard at Victor, and he later wrote Thompson a letter enclosing the pawn tickets and adding the information that he could get his property by redeeming the tickets.

MORRIS GUILTY SAYS THE JURY

VERDICT FINDS THAT SHOOTING WAS DONE WITH FELONIOUS INTENT—NO EYEWITNESSES.

Special to The Gazette.

VICTOR, Feb. 28.—Coroner Henry E. Gesell, with Attorney Fred L. Sahaw of Cripple Creek, today held an inquest at the Victor undertaking rooms over the body of Irving Thomas, who was mortally wounded on Monday by Allen Morris at Moore's ranch near Love. An autopsy was also held this morning by Dr. A. G. Campbell at the McKenzie hospital and developed the fact that not more than one shot had been fired by Morris. The appearance indicated that two shots had been fired. A 32-caliber Colt's bullet was imbedded in the base of the dead man's brain. The inquest brought out the fact that there were no eyewitnesses to the shooting.

The jury rendered the following verdict: "We, the jury, find that the deceased, Irving Thomas, came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by one Allen Morris at Moore's ranch near Love, Teller county, Colorado, February 28, between 5 and 6 o'clock, p. m.

"We further find that the said shooting was done with felonious intent."

The verdict came as a great surprise in view of the fact that there were no eyewitnesses to the shooting.

Mrs. Fred Morse, mother-in-law of the man who did the shooting, was the first witness. She testified that she heard the shot, but could not see the fight because of the intervention of the boiler. Thomas had been carried into her house and lay unconscious for two hours on the lounge.

Undertaker Parsons testified that he had driven fifteen miles in search of Morris, not knowing that he had killed a man. Sheriff Bell told him to go to Clyde and find Morris, whom he had left there to locate a high grade cache near Clyde. Parsons drove to Clyde a few moments before the shooting and came back through the town without noticing anything unusual. He then proceeded to Cripple Creek. Two miles west of Clyde he overtook Morris walking on the road and carrying an iron poker. Morris was excited and got into the buggy, informing Parsons that he had had trouble and shot a man, but that he did it in self-defense. When the two reached Cameron they were overtaken by a girl astride a horse, who said that she was going to get a doctor. Parsons took a six-shooter from Morris which had been given him by Sheriff Bell in the morning at Cripple Creek.

Miss Lydia Patrick, who lives near Clyde, testified that she was at Morse's when the shooting occurred. She saw Thomas leave the house and go to the mill and Morris, who had just arrived in the buggy, went to the mill at once. Immediately she heard the report of the gun and Morris came back to the house carrying an iron poker which he said Thomas had tried to strike him with. All the incidents happened within five minutes.

Gilbert H. Thomas, a brother of the dead man, living in Goldfield, swore that he was informed of the shooting and went to Clyde as soon as he could. He found his brother lying in the front room of the Morse residence, but was not permitted to see him for an hour, being compelled to remain in the kitchen. When he did see his brother he was informed: "You can't see him, he is unconscious. Don't bother him." An ambulance then came and took the body of his brother away.

Mrs. Morris said Irving Thomas and Allen Morris had had a private difficulty and that she expected trouble. The nature of the private trouble was not disclosed. Allen Morris had been introduced to Gilbert Thomas by Irving Thomas three weeks before at Goldfield and there appeared to be no friction between them.

MIDLAND BAND WILL COMPETE

FOR BIG PRIZES IN DENVER DURING THE B. P. O. E. REUNION NEXT JULY.

"If it is possible for the band to be in Denver at the time of the competition, and the bands of the state are allowed to compete, we shall certainly not let the opportunity for one of the big prizes pass," said Harry Irvine of the Midland band last evening in speaking of the contest to be held in Denver next July at the time of the Elks' reunion.

"On account of engagements, our band will not be able to stay in Denver during the entire period of the Elks' convention, but if it is possible, we will try to be there. We took the prize from 21 competitors in Milwaukee several years ago, and we will not be afraid to face the music at Denver in July, if things can be arranged."

All kinds of prizes will be offered to the bands in contest during the convention, and musicians all over the country are looking forward to the contest. There will be $2,500 awarded bands that march in the parade. The prizes will be paid in gold bullion and will be of more than usual interest and more eagerly sought for than ever before.

There will be an award of $1,000 for the first and $500 for the second successful competitor in the concert, but if fewer than five bands compete, then the prizes will be $750 and $250.

There will be a prize of $1,000 for the bands taking part in the parade, but not in the public concert. This prize will be divided into three parts, as follows: $500, $300, $200.

Owing to the fact that most of the prizes are offered by the Elks, the band of that order in this city will not enter the contest.

ANOTHER ARREST

FOURTH MEMBER OF HIGH GRADING GANG IS IN JAIL AT VICTOR.

Special to The Gazette.

VICTOR, Feb. 28.—George Floerchinger, an assayer, was arrested today by Chief of Police Naylor on a warrant sworn to before Judge Patrick of Cripple Creek, charging him with larceny of ore. His bond was fixed at $2,500, which he did not furnish. He is in the county jail. Floerchinger is the fourth man arrested in connection with the high grade operations which resulted in the arrest on Saturday afternoon of William High. Fred Morse and Irving Thomas. All but Thomas, who was shot and killed at the ranch on Monday afternoon by Allen Morris, are in the county jail. Floerchinger was seen yesterday in Goldfield. Officers went after him, but he had disappeared. The officers then raided the place utilized by Floerchinger and High in Goldfield as an assaying institution, and found a complete cyanide plant, excepting a crusher, and about 1,200 pounds of what appears to be very rich high grade ore. The crusher found at the ranch by Sheriff Bell on Saturday in the "would-be" sawmill operated by the three men arrested, is believed to be the one that was formerly used in Goldfield.

sent of the president of the United States.

A number of other changes were made. While the treaty was given a place on the senate executive calendar by the report made today, it will not be called up until after the railroad rate bill has been disposed of and even then it may go over for some time. The action of the Democrats at their recent caucus has made it very doubtful whether the treaty could be ratified this session. Briefly, the treaty provides for the adjustment of the claims against the Dominican republic under the supervision of the United States. The government is to take charge of the customs house and collect the revenues, pay 45 per cent to the Dominican republic and withhold 55 per cent, the latter amount to be used to liquidate the debts of the republic.

FRANKIE NEAL WINS

Knocks Out Harry Tenny in Fourteen Rounds at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Frankie Neil, the American bantamweight champion, successfully defended his title by knocking out Harry Tenny in the fourteenth round tonight at Mechanics pavilion. At no time was Neil in danger of losing. He outfought his man from start to finish. As early as the fourth round he had his man groggy. He played for Tenny's face and body, and when the bell rang Tenny went wobbling to his corner. It was the same story all through the fight. Neil continued to batter Tenny about at will.

The eleventh round saw the beginning of the end. Neil kept coming constantly after his man, planting his left to the body and jaw with merciless precision. In the fourteenth and last round Tenny was given such punishment as has seldom been seen in the local ring. Neil started the round with a terrific left body smash that sent Tenny reeling against the ropes. Another blow sent Tenny to the floor for the count of nine. He got up groggy when Neil put him to the floor, where he remained until the referee counted him out. Neil escaped without a mark. He announced that he would at once challenge Jem Bowker, the English champion, who received a decision over him in London a year ago. Neil was favorite in the betting at odds of 10 to 8.

WANT RECEIVER.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—The judgment creditors of the Weare Commission company, which failed in this city in 1903, asked that the circuit court today appoint a receiver for the assets of the firm. It is charged in the bill that in 1903, prior to the failure, the officers of the Weare Commission company paid to A. J. Lichstern, a broker of this city, $300,000 for losses said to have been incurred in the purchase and sale of shares of stock by the Weare Commission company.

The bill charges that no actual sales or purchases of stock were made and if they were made they were made by Lichstern "from and to himself."

The court is asked to hold Lichstern liable for the sum of money said to have been received.

CREW REWARDED AFTER HARROWING EXPERIENCE

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 28.—After a harrowing night on the deck of their vessel, with the life savers on shore unable to reach them either by life boat or breeches buoy, and with death staring them in the face for several hours, the crew of the four-masted schooner George M. Grant, from Brunswick, Ga., to Perth Amboy, N. J., lumber laden, which went ashore at Cape Henry, were rescued today by the Norfolk tug Jack Tachey, which started at once to Norfolk with the shipwrecked men.

Conditions grew worse on the Grant as the hours passed and just before the arrival of the Tachey it looked as though the schooner's crew, already half frozen from exposure, would have to take to the rigging of the vessel to save themselves. Immediately after the rescue of the Grant's crew, her decks became awash and the schooner soon sank. Her cargo remains intact as yet, but the conditions on the coast are still severe and the indications are that the vessel will be a total loss.

The three masted schooner John A. Beckerman, in collision with a Norfolk and Washington outward bound steamer in Hampton roads last night, was this morning towed to Norfolk and ran aground to prevent her sinking. The New York steamer Princess Anne, which got aground in the Niles harbor after sailing from Norfolk last evening, was floated apparently uninjured today, and proceeded.

PROTESTS AGAINST RATE LEGISLATION

SENATOR FORAKER SPEAKS ON SUBJECT FOR THREE HOURS MANY PRIVATE PENSION BILLS PASSED

WASHINGTON, [illegible] Mr. Foraker [illegible] speech on the railroad situation. His speech was a protest against [illegible] the Elkins bill. He [illegible] Mr. Foraker [illegible] the Indian Territory, with the result that Mr. Aldrich [illegible] the Indian government of the Indians was adopted after it was so modified as to carry the government until March 4, 1907.

A number of private bills, many of them granting pension increases, were passed.

Mr. Foraker conceded that some evils exist in connection with the railroads, but urged that most of them could be more effectively met by amending the Elkins bill than by passing the pending bill. He announced his regret at differing from the president, but said he could not see his way clear to pursue any other course. He gave a general review of the history of the railroad development of the country, and passed to the evils of the system, which, he said, are necessarily incident to the upbuilding of so vast an interest. His attitude toward the pending railroad rate bill was correctly outlined in his first paragraph, in which he said of the bill: "It is so contrary to the spirit of our institutions, and of such drastic and revolutionary character, that, if not in its immediate effect, at least as a precedent, the consequences are likely to be most unusual and far-reaching."

He discussed the railroad evils as of three classes, excessive rates, rebates and discriminations.

He found little to complain of under the first heading, but said there are some instances of charges that are too high, and he thought a prompt and effective remedy should be provided.

A more serious evil he found in rebates, and he traced the present extensive railroad consolidations to the fact that the supreme court decisions against pooling had left the roads without protection from the rebate system, except to resort to some general understanding. Referring to the Elkins law, he said:

"There has been no serious attempt to enforce this law to prevent discriminations as to localities, but a glance at its provisions will suffice to show that it is as broad, direct, explicit and efficient to remedy that kind of an evil wherever it may exist, as it has been found to be as to personal discriminations. That the law has not been tested in this respect is not due to any fault of the law, but because no one has seen fit to invoke it."

"The fault," he added, "is not with the existing law, but with the officials who have not enforced it."

The Heavens in March

BY PROF. DOOLITTLE ASTRONOMER OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

First of the Faint Summer Groups

The New Comets, the Nature of Comets, the Planets, Etc.

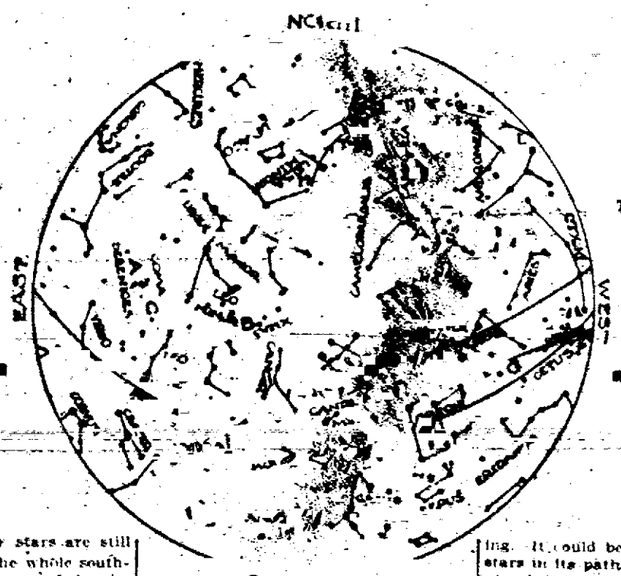

Fig. 1. The Constellations at 9 P. M., March 1.

THE bright winter stars are still with us, filling the whole southern and western part of the sky down to the very ground. The three most brilliant groups of all, Taurus, Gemini and Orion, which first appeared in the east last November, have been moving steadily westward and are now perceptibly nearer the ground than they were last month. They will continue for a few weeks to make beautiful the evenings of early spring, but for us their course this year is nearly run. Soon they will sink below the ground in the west, and the brilliant heavens of winter will have changed into the far fainter summer sky.

Already the first of the faint summer groups are beginning to appear. If the observer will follow eastward from the Twins, passing through the strange, faint, little group known as the Crab, and past Leo, which is the last of the winter constellations, he will see the end of the large faint summer group Virgo just emerging from the ground. As the weeks go by he will see that each evening this group is a little higher up in the sky than the evening before, but not until May will it be wholly above the ground, and not until July will it have passed the meridian in the early evening. By that time, all of the winter groups except Leo will have disappeared behind the sun in the west; four weeks later Leo will have also gone, and the complete change of the winter into the summer sky will be finished.

Several of the faint, little known groups are now in excellent position for tracing out. Many of these are very interesting. For example, Camelopardalis or the Giraffe, which is long and straggling like its namesake, has a remarkable cluster of no less than five double stars, which the observer can find just west of Perseus at A, Fig. 1. Just above Cancer is the Lynx, a group so faint that the astronomer who first gave it its name observed that those who examine it ought to be lynx-eyed to see it. The little group hardly contains a single nebula or cluster, but is remarkable for its large number of double stars. One of these is at B, Fig. 1, and to the left of this there is a faint nebula.

Just east of the Lynx is the Lesser Lion, while beyond this, filling the space between the Greater Bear and Arcturus, is the delicate Coma Berenices, or Berenice's Hair, a beautiful group as of gossamers spangled with dew drops. Among the Arabians it was the Pond into which their Gazelle was springing to escape the Lion, the Gazelle being the group known to us as the Lesser Lion. The whole western and southern part of the constellation is filled with nebulas, though most of them are faint. One just southeast of C, Fig. 1, is the Pinwheel nebula, one of the pyrotechnics of the sky. Just to the west of the star E is a faint double star, D, which is remarkable because it lies almost exactly at the pole of the Milky Way.

All of the faint stars that lie between the two dogs, extending from the head of the Winter Snake to Orion, make up the constellation Monoceros, or the Unicorn. This group was known to the early Persians and to the Chinese; it is chiefly remarkable for the large number of double stars and star clusters which it contains.

The New Comets.

The brightest comet of the year, which was discovered in the early morning of December 6, has now passed around the sun into the evening sky. During January and February it moved very rapidly eastward, reaching the constellation Cetus about the middle of February. During March it will move entirely across this constellation along the path F G, Fig. 1. In January the comet passed very near to the earth, so that on January 2 it was nearly 60 times as bright as at the time of its discovery. Now, however, it is very rapidly leaving us again and is only visible in the larger telescopes.

The second comet that has recently been visible was discovered at Genoa on November 18. The most remarkable thing about this body was its extraordinarily rapid motion. When first seen it was very near the north pole, at H, Fig. 1; three days later it had reached the point K in Cepheus, and in the course of a week it passed entirely across Cassiopeia and Andromeda to L (Fig. 1). To those who had the pleasure of viewing the comet through a telescope, its rapid motion was very striking. It could be seen drifting past the stars in its path, but four or five minutes being required for it to move entirely across the field of view. This comet passed so near to the earth that it was hoped its distance might be accurately measured in miles, and from this the distance from the sun to the earth in miles could be found. This is the great fundamental distance in astronomy, the measure in terms of which all other distances are expressed.

Both of these comets were very unlike the popular idea of a comet, being merely faint, round, wooly-looking objects, without any trace of a tail, as shown in Fig. 2. Nearly all of the comets which are discovered have this appearance, though some of them are condensed and brighter at the center as in Fig. 3. It is only rarely that a comet develops a definite head and tail, though the very bright comets usually do so.

The size of even the smallest comets is enormous, their dimensions being expressed in millions of miles. This is well shown by Fig. 4, which shows the head of the comet of 1858 compared in size with the earth. The little round dot to the right is the earth, drawn to its true size, and it will be noticed that it quite sinks into insignificance in comparison even with the small part of the comet which is shown.

But though the comets are almost inconceivably large, their weight is but small. On the average, it is certain that a cubic foot of cometary matter weighs less than a cubic foot of the best so-called vacuum which can be obtained in the air pump. It may seem strange that these enormously extended, inconceivably bright bodies can swing around the sun so rapidly as they do, but it must be remembered that in outer space there is no air or other thing to oppose their motion and break them up. It is believed that though their average density is so small, yet they are made up of countless separate particles which probably vary in size from grains of dust up to meteorites weighing several tons. The showers of shooting stars which come at fixed dates each year are almost certainly caused by the collision of our earth with such particles which once formed parts of comets. The heat caused by their friction with the upper air burns them up before they can reach the ground.

It is a very remarkable fact that as the brighter comets pass around the sun their tails always point nearly away from the sun, as shown in Fig. 6. The smallest particles of the comet are pushed away by the sun, but the nature of the force which repels them is not known. It may be electrical or it may be due to the so-called light impact. The explanation both of this and of the cause of the faint light which the tails emit is yet to be found.

Jupiter is still in excellent position for observation and will remain the brightest and most conspicuous evening star during the month. Venus will also be easily visible after sunset, having changed from a morning to an evening star on February 13. It is rapidly moving eastward across the constellation Pisces; by the end of the month it will be about one degree west of the bright star M, Fig. 1, setting about 8 p. m. In a small telescope it will then be seen as a most beautiful narrow, silvery, crescent, looking like the moon when about three days old.

The position of Neptune is also shown on the map. The other planets are not visible in the early evening.

WORK AND DEATH.

The late Henry Harland is said to have received $70,000 from one of his novels. His method of work accounts for his premature death. When the desire to write came upon him in 1884 he occupied a minor place in the surrogate's office in New York, where his hours were so long that he found little time for literary labor. In order to lengthen the ordinary day, he retired directly after dinner and slept until 1 o'clock in the morning, when he arose and after drinking a cup of black coffee, wrote steadily until breakfast time. It was under such circumstances that he wrote his first stories of Jewish life over the pen name of "Sidney Luska."

TORTURED BY ITCHING SCALP

Eczema Broke Out Also on Hands and Limbs. Suffering Intense—Doctors Said Too Old to Be Cured—An Old Soldier of 80 Years Declares:

"CUTICURA TREATMENT IS A BLESSING"

"At all times and to all people I am willing to testify to the merits of Cuticura. It saved me from worse than the tortures of Hades, about the year 1900, with itching on my scalp and temples, and afterwards it commenced to break out on my hands. Then it broke out on my limbs. I was advised to [illegible] and water, which I did, to no effect. I then went to a Surgeon, who commenced treating me with a wash of borax. This treatment did me no good, but rather aggravated the disease. I then told him I would go and see a physician in Erie. The reply was that I could go anywhere, but a case of eczema like mine could not be cured; that I was too old (80). I went to an eminent doctor in the city of Erie and treated with him for six months, with like results. I had read of the Cuticura Remedies often. I was strongly tempted to give them a trial, so I sent for the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent and continued taking the Resolvent until I had taken six bottles, stopping it to take the Pills. I was now getting better. I took two baths a day, and at night I let the lather of the Soap dry on. I used the Ointment with great effect after washing in warm water, to stop the itching at once. I am now cured.

"The Cuticura treatment is a blessing and should be used by every one who has itching of the skin. I can't say any more, and thank God that He has given the world such a curative. You can use this letter as you please. A very much befriended man, Wm. H. Gray, 3303 Mt. Vernon St., Philadelphia, Pa., August 2, 1905."

Complete Eczema and Internal Treatment for every Humor from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, price $5.00 per set. Resolvent in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 50c. per vial of 60, may be had of druggists. Sole Agents, Assignees of Mr. Cuticura, Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. COLORADO CITY

MRS. CHAS. MINIUM HURT

Painfully Injured in Gasoline Explosion Yesterday Morning.

Mrs. Charles Minium, of 524 Lincoln avenue, was badly burned about the head and neck by an explosion of gasoline yesterday morning. Mrs. Minium placed a tub containing five gallons of gasoline on the back porch, and was washing a garment when an explosion occurred. The burning fluid was scattered for several yards. Quick presence of mind in smothering the flames about her head with her apron, probably saved Mrs. Minium from fatal injuries. The interior of the kitchen was in flames when the fire department arrived and extinguished the blaze with hand grenades. While the burns received by Mrs. Minium are painful, they are not dangerous. Mr. Minium had left early in the morning for Boulder, Colo.

COLORADO CITY TO HAVE A PLACER MACHINE FACTORY

W. E. Weeks left yesterday for Winona, Minn., where his partner, P. A. Hardwick, is building a number of the Hardwick flour gold placer machines. They have secured a lease on forty acres of placer mining land near Hatfield, Nev., where Mr. Weeks will superintend operations as soon as the required number of machines is ready. Then the factory for building them will be located in this city.

ASK BONUS FOR THEATER

At a meeting of the promoters of the new vaudeville theater, held yesterday morning in the office of J. J. McCorkel, it was decided to ask the business men of this city to give a bonus of $1,500 to the enterprise. The building is to be erected on the north side of Colorado avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets. It is to be 50x130 feet in dimensions, two stories high and built of pressed brick. The company agrees to erect a $15,000 house and to have it completed not later than May 15, 1906.

WHY COLORADO SPRINGS IS ENJOYING GOOD WEATHER.

The remarkably fine weather which has been enjoyed in Colorado Springs during February is explained by State Weather Forecaster F. H. Brandenburg, who says that all storms are now sidetracked and sent south and east of Colorado. He says that the storms this winter have been in the south instead of the north, entering the United States at Washington or Oregon and continuing on east through British Columbia to the continental divide, then through eastern Montana, Wyoming, Nebraska and Iowa, leaving Colorado on the south and west sides of the stormtracks.

JUNIORS VS. SENIORS

Another Exhibition of Class Spirit at High School.

At an early hour this morning a group of High school juniors were seen patrolling up and down in front of the High school building while a group of seniors were watching their movements and waiting for a chance to get to the High school flag staff. This means that another interesting chapter has been added to the story of the fight between the classes of '06 and '07 of the Colorado Springs High school.

In the still hours of Tuesday night the seniors "shinned" up the flag pole, tied their class colors to the top and cut the flag ropes. All day yesterday they pointed to the pennant with pride and asked the juniors what they were going to do about it. The ropes were cut.

Last night almost the entire junior class appeared on the scene and stood guard while a nimble member of the class climbed the pole, substituted the junior pennant for the senior colors and placed the senior flag at half mast. The pole was then greased, making it almost impossible to ascend. The seniors were quickly gathered by one of the class who had watched the juniors, and at the time of going to press the students were showing more interest in the doings at the flag pole than in the result of today's recitations.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play when in health and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company California Fig Syrup Co. plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

Mr. Pinkerton will move to the southern part of the state to engage in the manufacture of artificial ice.

"There Is a Tide in the Affairs of Men Which Taken at the Flood Leads on to Fortune."

The opportunity to make a success comes to every individual at some time in his life, but it often appears in a disguised form and is not recognized until after it has flown. Failures in life result as often from poor health as from mismanagement, and yet people ignore this fact and disregard a cold until it has settled on their lungs and pneumonia has resulted, or consumption has been contracted. The opportunity has passed and it is too late now to remove the cause. Your chance for success may rest in curing a cold, and there is nothing you can procure which acts so quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is famous for its cures of coughs and colds and can always be depended upon. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia. For sale by all druggists.

DATE CHANGED TO SEPTEMBER 23-29 BY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

LARGE PART OF THE CELEBRATION WILL BE HELD IN MANITOU. PLANS FOR SOUVENIRS

The committee also considered plans for advertising and souvenirs.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

Denver Attorney Sued for $735 on Promissory Notes.

Lillie Curtis, 16 years old, was sentenced to the Girls Industrial school at Morrison yesterday morning in the juvenile division of the county court.

Orval Wilder filed a money demand suit in the district court yesterday against John Hipp, a Denver attorney. He claims to hold two promissory notes for $458 each against Hipp and asks judgment for $735.

In the case of school district No. 34 vs. Guy Parker, J. W. Conlow, et al., cowboys who, it is alleged, have held immoral dances in the schoolhouse of the district, the defendants filed a demurrer in the district court yesterday, claiming that the plaintiff does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause for action.

Benjamin Sadtler filed an amended complaint against Emily H. Lawton and the Glencairn Land and Live Stock company in the district court yesterday. Sadtler claims to have discovered lithograph stone south of Colorado Springs years ago, and wants a one-half interest in the find. He alleges that Mrs. Lawton entered into an agreement whereby he was to receive a share of the profits derived from the development of the valuable beds of lithographic stone.

CHAUFFEURS FINED

Arrested for Violating the City Speed Ordinance.

The police department is doing a rushing business with chauffeurs who play with the high speed clutch while driving their auto cars within the city limits. R. R. Hall of Pueblo was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Gavin while driving down Tejon street at what Gavin claims was a rate of 24 miles an hour. He was given a speedy trial and was fined $5 and costs. The fine was suspended and Hall was allowed to go after paying the costs—$1.65. Later in the day L. M. Richards, chauffeur for Charles A. Lindsley, and Frank Titsworth were arrested and will be arraigned in the police court this morning on a charge of violating the speed ordinance.

Charles Peyton, who is said to have "skipped" to Pueblo rather than face the charge of creating a disturbance on February 11, came back to the city yesterday and gave himself up to the police. On the double charge of disturbance and contempt of court, Peyton was fined $25 and costs by Judge Toombs. Of the total fine, $15 and costs were suspended, and he was sent to the rock pile to work out the remainder. C. Newman was fined $5 and costs for being drunk and was sent to the rock pile.

FRANK F. SCHRIEBER,
Who Will Succeed A. J. Strachan as County Assessor.

Schreiber will not be formally appointed to the position until Mr. Strachan resigns, which will be in about five weeks.

The fight for the assessorship has been waged strenuously by a number of aspirants since Mr. Strachan's appointment as postmaster was announced a month ago. Mr. Schreiber received strong backing from Colorado City friends, who claimed that their city was entitled to more patronage from the Republican party. At present he is a deputy county treasurer and has made a good record as a public official.

BREACH OF PROMISE

MISS JOSEPHINE BEHN WANTS HER SUIT AGAINST G. M. HOUSTON DISMISSED.

On the ground that she brought the action without proper consideration and now wishes the suit dismissed because she has realized that she will not be able to substantiate the charges of seduction which she has made, Miss Josephine Behn has filed an affidavit before Judge Frank T. Johnson in Denver asking that the breach of promise suit she began several months ago against George M. Houston, formerly of this city, for an alleged breach of promise, be dismissed.

The affidavit follows the application made Monday by Attorney C. F. Miller in having the case reinstated, claiming that Miss Behn, his client, had come into court several weeks previous and had dismissed the action without his knowledge or consent.

Miss Behn in her affidavit declares that last December, and she mentions the days, she went to the office of Attorney Miller several times and asked him to go into court and have the case dismissed, as she realized that she had been rather premature in bringing the suit in the first place and that when she looked at the matter coolly she saw it would be impossible for her to bring forward evidence to support her allegations.

Miss Behn in her affidavit denies that she was given any money for withdrawing from the suit and asserts everything she did was voluntary on her part.

Miss Behn demanded $51,000 damages from Houston.

PEABODY AND THE MUTUAL.

POLICY-HOLDERS in the Mutual Life Insurance Company who thought their troubles were at an end when President McCurdy was forced out, are finding that they still have something to worry about. McCurdy has departed from the Scene, but his soul goes marching on: he no longer directs the affairs of the big company, but the methods he introduced are still in force. When Charles A. Peabody was chosen president of the Mutual a short time ago, Lord Alfred Harmsworth, the wealthy English publisher and one of the largest policy-holders in the company, cabled strenuous objections to his elevation, declaring that he was not a fit person to hold this important office. Lord Harmsworth threatened to make serious trouble for the Mutual unless Peabody withdrew, but apparently nothing came of it. Peabody is still in, but he is under heavy fire and it would not be surprising if he should soon go the way of McCurdy.

Peabody is held responsible for the blocking of all efforts at real reform in the company. He seems to be a new and revised edition of McCurdy. Since the resignation of Stuyvesant Fish from the committee appointed to recommend reform measures, and a little later from the board of trustees, these matters have been brought forcibly to public notice. Mr. Fish, who is president of the Illinois Central Railroad, took a bold stand for real and effective reform, but he found that there was no chance of accomplishing anything of value in opposition to Peabody and the other trustees, who are hold-overs from the McCurdy regime. Therefore he resigned and made public his reasons for doing so.

The "big three" life insurance companies have been such rich loot for the grafters in the past that the grafters are loath to let go. Nor is it to be supposed that they will let go until they are forced to. Nobody believes for a minute that Thomas F. Ryan would pay $2,500,000 for Equitable stock valued at $100,000, limited by law to dividends of seven per cent, purely from philanthropic motives. In the case of the Equitable, considerable retrenchment has been made by the new president, Paul Morton, but the policy-holders are still out in the cold. Ryan owns a majority of the stock and can do with the company about as he pleases. The Mutual and the New York Life are on a different basis because they are "mutual" companies, but they are mutual more in name than in fact. If Peabody is no better than McCurdy, and the trustees now and in the future are to be the same men who were jointly responsible with McCurdy for the dishonesty and mismanagement of the past, it is hard to see wherein the humble policy holder has profited by the shake-up.

The Armstrong Committee has recommended a plan for giving policy-holders actual control of mutual companies, and unless this or some other effective plan is enacted into law by the New York Legislature things are liable to go on in the future pretty much as they have in the past. It is idle to sit down and wait for a group of honest, capable men to come along and take charge of the affairs of these companies. So long as the rogues can retain their grip they certainly will do so, and the only hope for the policy-holders lies in the passage and strict enforcement of laws which will make further grafting impossible.

TOO MUCH FREEDOM OF SPEECH.

TWO OR three weeks ago Jack London, the novelist, who is also a rampant socialist, made a public address in the course of which he is said to have exclaimed, "damn the Constitution." The incident has excited wide comment, and as no denial has been made, he was probably correctly quoted. A few days later Bishop Turner, a negro, in a speech before a convention of his people at Macon, Ga., said that the American flag is a "dirty and contemptible rag," and declared that "hell is an improvement on the United States so far as the negro is concerned." Bishop Turner is a man of considerable influence in the African M. E. Church, and it is supposed that his opinions carry weight with at least a part of his followers.

Free speech is a splendid thing, but there is always a possibility of getting too much of even the best things. In this country where the right of free speech is inalienable there always have been and there probably always will be people who abuse the right to an extent that in almost any other country would be considered treasonable. There is no such thing as too much liberty for the sane and sensible people who know how to value it, but the sinister and disloyal do not come under this classification. They have far more liberty than they can use intelligently and it has intoxicated them; they would be better off with less of it. Every man has a right to his own opinions of the Constitution, the American flag and the status of negroes under the government, but when these opinions are downright treasonable as are those attributed to Jack London and Bishop Turner—he has no right to air them in print or in a public speech.

We have had more than a sufficiency of this kind of talk in Colorado during the last two or three years. When the Western Federation strikes in a province the officials of that anarchistic organization repeatedly indulged in utterances for which they ought to have been sent to jail. Their official organ printed untold columns of stuff, the mere tone of which was enough to make the blood of a patriotic citizen boil. Senator Patterson, as mean a demagogue as ever defiled a position of power, has gone as far in this direction as he dared, both in his newspapers and his public speeches, though he did not dare go to the extremes attained by his pals, Moyer and Haywood. Since the recent arrest of this pair of worthies for complicity in a diabolical crime of murder, Patterson's newspapers have done everything to create sympathy for them and have charged by innuendo that the crimes of the Western Federation were actually committed by many of the most respectable citizens of Colorado, some of them residents of this city.

Patterson has received one rebuke from the Supreme Court, but it is not likely to have the effect most to be desired, for he will continue his demagogical harangues indefinitely. But though, by reason of his political position and his control of two newspapers, he is a powerful factor in stirring up discontent, his utterances are of less importance than those of the men who publicly damn the Constitution and the flag. There is no reason why anybody should be allowed to give public expression to such sentiments as were expressed by London and Turner. Our laws ought to provide a way to punish the miscreants who abuse the rights of free speech to the extent of treason; there would be an immediate howl from the agitators who are so solicitous about safeguarding our liberties, but this would be of small importance, for the man who doesn't know how to appreciate his liberties doesn't deserve to have any.

TOGO'S LETTER.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S action in causing Admiral Togo's letter to the Japanese naval forces to be promulgated in a general order to the American Army and Navy is thoroughly characteristic. Mr. Roosevelt is a firm believer in the sort of doctrine that Togo preaches in this epistle, and he does not hesitate to point a moral with anything that will serve the purpose: "In time of peace prepare for war," is one of the President's numerous mottoes of statecraft, and there is no denying its wisdom. It was by a strict adherence to this aphorism that the Japanese won their contest with Russia, and Togo's letter shows that they are even now preparing for their next war, however far in the future it may be.

It is related that when Count von Moltke, the great Prussian field marshal, was awakened in the night and told that the expected war with France had been declared, he directed his aide to a certain pigeon-hole in his desk wherein would be found complete instructions for the mobilization of the Prussian army, the first move in the campaign. Von Moltke then went back to bed. Whether this story is true or not, the fact remains that at the beginning of hostilities the Prussian army was fit and ready down to the polishing of the last button on the uniform of the humblest private, while the army of Napoleon III was in a state of absolute unpreparedness. The rest is history. France sustained the most crushing defeat borne by any nation in modern times. Numerous wars have demonstrated that the French are the equals if not the superiors of the Germans as fighters, and French strategy has seldom been lacking. But the finest army in the world, if demoralized and poorly equipped, is certain to go down to defeat before a force inferior in numbers and in warlike capacity, but in every way prepared for a hard campaign.

At the beginning of the late war with Spain the United States suffered seriously because of its unreadiness for war. The Navy was in far better condition than the Army, but it was far from being in the condition that it should have been in. The innate superiority of the American naval officer and common seaman over the Spaniard saved the day and won for us swift and decisive victories, but it is disagreeable to think what probably would have happened if our antagonist had been almost any other naval power. It is certainly true that the war was more of a sea fight than a land fight, for our Army was about as unfit for hard service as it has ever been in its history. Suppose, instead of a handful of disheartened Spaniards who had shown themselves incapable of defeating even the ragamuffin bushwhackers who composed the Cuban army, our forces had been sent to contend in Cuba against 50,000 German regulars. In other words, suppose we had gone to war with Germany instead of with Spain. Once more, it is painful to think of the consequences. We would certainly have triumphed in the end, by virtue of our illimitable resources, but the cost and the initial humiliation would have been terrible.

Admiral Togo is right—there is only one time to prepare for war and that is in time of peace.

The report that Mrs. William E. Corey has settled in South Dakota indicates that as usual, the family friends who tried to enact the role of peacemaker in a marital scrap made a bad job of it.

Come to think of it, we Americans have an additional reason for being glad that Castro is in trouble with France. It keeps him from executing his threat to invade the United States.

The official announcement that the Russian parliament is to meet on May 10 is just a little vague. It doesn't say whether it means May 10, 1906, or May 10 fifty years from now.

General Kuropatkin, who has been called home from the Far East, was once known as the greatest military genius in Russia. Now he isn't known at all.

The people of Venezuela want to get rid of Castro. This is the first good thing we ever heard about the people of Venezuela.

It seems to be nip and tuck between Hungary and China as to which will break out first, with Russia a close third.

It is too bad that the jury which acquitted Pat Crowe can't be "sent up" for the term it should have given him.

What a relief it is nowadays to pick up a paper without seeing a picture of the happy Longworth pair.

It is reported that the American eagle is becoming extinct. The double eagle also is quite rare.

PUBLIC OPINION IN MOB ACTION.

Somebody has written of the psychology of the mob. Perhaps there is room for a treatise on the psychology of public opinion. It might be found that the laws fitting the one explain to a degree the manifestations and movements of the other.

Viewing the matter from the standpoint of those men under the fire of the insurance investigation, the accusations, indictments, trials, convictions and everything now being inflicted by public opinion as voiced in the press, the pulpit and congress must resemble, in the indiscriminating sweep of a merciless and irresistible power, the conduct of an armed mob engaged in subverting an ancient regime and cutting the throats of its beneficiaries. That the victims are amazed and confounded by the examination is manifest. Nor is there entire lack of protest from the uninvolved onlookers against the wholesale judgments being handed down by this revolutionary tribunal of public opinion.

What is described as the "integrity trust" numbers more than the tailors of Tooley street. It is no less than the great body of public opinion in revolutionary action, finding expression through the customary channels. Nor is the responsibility for undiscriminating conduct and the infliction of injustice to be individualized and loaded upon those who voice the public accusations. It is wrapped up in the whole body of righteous popular indignation and just sense of outrage, and is subject to laws which preclude the possibility of easy adherence to patience, sobriety and exact discrimination. On the other hand, we are not lightly to fasten entire responsibility for the uprising upon the men who are being dragged before the revolutionary tribunal and hurried on to the execution block.

Let us be more specific. The Republican long since and repeatedly has called attention to and sharply criticised the salaries commonly being paid or taken by high life insurance officials. Beyond bringing forth some defense from parties immediately interested in continuing a position so highly profitable to them, the fact and the protest seemed to pass unheeded. But we may suppose some readers noted, agreed, became indignant and expressed their feelings to others. Gradually and imperceptibly in this way a considerable body of protest accumulates, but it still remains helpless against the natural inertia of vast masses of men. The $100,000 insurance official hears nothing more, and concludes that he rests securely in the lap of public approval. If he supposed otherwise, he would adjust matters accordingly. But the contagion of thought and protest creeps quietly on until some occasion arises to bring forth to public view, in a striking manner, such an impressive grouping of outrages upon propriety as in the present case.

Then there is an explosion of popular wrath, and woe be to those who happen to be in the way of its mighty and not overdiscriminating wrath. What is called the "psychological moment" has come. Facts long known to most people, which seemed to stir them not a particle, now enrage, and fill the streets with vengeful processions. The "ancient regime," in the person of all its beneficiaries, the more innocent and the more guilty, is dragged from the palace, judged in the market place and executed wholesale in the public square. Have the persons who most exemplify conditions to wrong or injustice only themselves to blame? Is theirs the whole responsibility? But they grew up in and succeeded to a situation, which, step by step, through the ignorance or inertia of the masses, had won popular acquiescence. Does all responsibility for any excesses belong to the revolutionary mob? But there are admittedly great wrongs to be righted, and those who should right them and could do so without excesses have failed to act. And so the job falls to the mob, which necessarily does rough work.

There are lessons of vest import in this peaceful but hardly the less cruel revolution of ours against graft and plundering in the high places of business and finance. Let those who are protesting against the excesses of public opinion in revolution say what they have been doing to correct these wrongs, or what they will do if the mob will disperse and let the situation alone. Nothing is more certain than that, in such a case, they would also lapse into silence, and let the conditions of injustice and wrong resume their course. When the evil has been allowed to strike as deep a root as to cause a popular revolution, those who would cast it out need not and should not follow the mob, but they must work in some measure with the mob if results are to be achieved. Matters have gone too far to permit of any other course.

The men who are being caught in this sweep of popular wrath merit a degree of sympathy. They are more the victims of an environment not of their individual creation than conscious and deliberate wrong doers. That society which now condemns them is quite as much responsible as they are. But it must needs be in this life that the sins or neglects of society in general, individuals, and not always the most guilty, will pay the penalty. Let us be warned, by the impressive lesson before us, not to permit industrial wrong and social injustice in general to continue to a point which will arouse a far more serious popular uprising than we now have on hand. Such a revolution is being invited, and we may not know, as our insurance people did not know, when or in what vindictive temper it may fall upon us.—Springfield Republican.

IN WALL STREET.

In a Wall street crowd a Cincinnatian, thinking that he recognized a stolen umbrella under a fat man's arm, shouted, "Stop thief!" and instantly found the teeming thoroughfare deserted and himself alone.—Detroit Journal.

A QUESTION FOR JOHN D.

Does Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., think that Joseph, of the Egyptian corn corner, the object of his sincere admiration, would have been justified in running away from Potiphar's wife if she had been a subpoena server.—New York Evening Sun.

MERELY SUPPOSING.

No senator is opposed to pure-food legislation, it would seem. Everybody is for it in principle. That's why so much wonderful progress has been made in 17 short years. Now, if some senators had been unfriendly to such legislation.—Chicago Record-Herald.

COVERING UP MUTUAL CRIMES.

One can imagine the depravity and dishonesty of the new H. H. Rogers control in the Mutual when it was too much for Mr. Stuyvesant Fish to stomach. The record shows that President Peabody blocked Mr. Fish's requests for information about Mutual crookedness, overruled his motion for suits against the McCurdy family, and finally caused the two associates of Mr. Fish on the committee to vote down his appeal from their decision to the board of trustees. Condonation of the crimes of the McCurdy management and concealment of all evidence looking to their prosecution, then, is the set program of the Mutual management.

With the facts as to the Fish incident uncovered, it is clearer than ever that if any proceedings to recover the loot and punish the thieves ever are begun by the Rogers crew, they will not be prosecuted in good faith.—New York Press.

HOW FOODS AND LIQUORS ARE ADULTERATED

COLOSSAL FAKES PERPETRATED ON THE UNSUSPECTING PUBLIC BY UNSCRUPULOUS MANUFACTURERS.

THE pure food bill which passed the senate a few days ago is not a new measure, says William E. Curtis in the Chicago Record-Herald. It has been pending for many years, and there have been several investigations by different committees to determine the need for such legislation. Some of them have been proposed as a diversion by the opponents of the bill, who have managed their interests with great skill and persistence. It is fought by nearly all manufacturers of patent foods, patent medicines, and particularly by the associations of rectifiers and wholesale liquor dealers. If it is true, as Dr. Wiley of the agricultural department has so frequently asserted, that 85 per cent of all the whiskies and other distilled liquors offered for sale in the United States are impure or adulterated, they have reason to do so.

The bill provides for the organization of a bureau of chemistry and foods which shall be charged with the inspection of all foods, drugs and liquors offered for sale in the district of Columbia or used in interstate or foreign trade, and if they are found adulterated, mixed, misbranded, impure or imitations, contrary to the law, the manufacturer or seller shall be punished with a fine not exceeding $200 for the first offense, and for each subsequent offense $500, or be imprisoned not exceeding one year, or both. All mixtures or compounds must be branded or labeled so as plainly to indicate that fact and show the character and constituents thereof. The manufacturers of proprietary foods and medicines are not required to disclose their trade formulas to the public, but must file them with the secretary of agriculture, accompanied by a bond or guarantee.

Some Manufacturers Favor Law.

Many manufacturers of patented foods and household preparations are in favor of the passage of the bill. They say they are not afraid to have their goods inspected and that every honest man in the trade ought to be willing to place himself under such supervision as is proposed. The most determined opposition comes from the manufacturers of patent medicines of which alcohol is the chief constituent and from the liquor trade, yet many distillers and liquor sellers are in favor of it, especially those who deal in "bottled-in-bond" whisky. It is asserted that fourteen states in the union produce genuine bourbon whisky, fifteen genuine rye whisky, twelve genuine gin and three genuine rum, while in eleven states more than 100,000,000 gallons of cologne spirits or alcohol is "rectified" "compounded" or "blended" by permission of the law, so that it may be sold in imitation of whisky and thus deceive the public. In the state of Kentucky there are about 200 distilleries and about 100 rectifying plants for the purpose of "rectifying" the whisky and preparing it for market by the use of drugs and other ingredients. And it is asserted that a rectifier in a small cellar, and with the necessary materials, can turn out a greater quantity in a day than an honest distiller in a month. In deciding a recent lawsuit in Kentucky, the court said:

"The proof shows that the rectifiers and blenders take a barrel of whisky and draw off a large part of it, filling it up with water, and then adding spirits and other chemicals to make it proof and to give it age, head, etc. The proof also shows that from 50 to 75 per cent of the whisky sold in the United States is 'blended' whisky. It is a cheaper article, and there is the temptation to simulate the more expensive whiskies."

What Liquors Are.

Alcohol is produced by the fermentation of corn, rye, sugar, molasses, or other substances. Pure neutral or cologne spirits are high grade alcohol of the purest distillation, and are taxed $1.10 per proof gallon—the same as whisky—which is equivalent to $2 per wine gallon.

Rum is produced by the distillation of molasses and sugar. Gin is alcohol mixed with the juice of juniper berries. Bourbon whisky is produced by the fermentation of corn meal with a little malt. Rye whisky is produced by the fermentation of rye with a little barley and malt. Standard whisky, either bourbon or rye, is one-half alcohol, one-half water, 100 proof.

To cure whisky, to give it color and flavor, it is stored in barrels made of white oak. The staves of the barrels are charred by fire on the inside, so that the barrel is lined with about an eighth or a quarter of an inch of charcoal, which is supposed to purify the whisky. When it runs from the still into the barrel, it is perfectly colorless, like ordinary alcohol. The charcoal is supposed to purify it, and it is supposed to draw tannin from the oak staves of the barrel. By these tan causes the taste and the color of the liquor gradually changes, and the longer it remains in the barrel the darker and the richer it will be. This is called "aging."

There is, however, a quick way of "aging" whisky. Newly made alcohol can be given the color of three-year-old whisky in twenty-four or forty-eight hours by forcing steam into the barrel and heating it; but this process will not improve the taste. It will still retain the sloppy odor that all young whisky has when it leaves the distillery. Nothing but time and the softening influence of the oak barrel can get rid of the fusel-oil flavor and can give it the mellow ripeness of age.

Under an act of congress, passed March 3, 1897, whisky in bond can be bottled under the eye of the government if it is not less than four nor more than eight years old, the theory being that it does not reach maturity in less than four years. When it is to be bottled the liquor can be reduced to 100 proof by adding water in the presence of the internal revenue officer. Whisky intended for export can be reduced to eighty proof. The bottles are filled and corked in the presence of government officers who themselves paste over the corks, neck seals, engraved labels, which bear the name of the distiller, the date produced, the date bottled and the proof when bottled. This is official evidence that the whisky is genuine and has not been adulterated or diluted or tampered with in any way. The bottles must then be packed in wooden cases in the presence of government officials and each case is stamped or branded by them before it is sent to market. All this is done for the purpose of protecting the public against impure whisky under the "bottling-in-bond law."

This law was passed after an elaborate investigation, made by the judiciary committee of the house of representatives of the fifty-second congress, which devotes ninety-eight pages of a report (H. R. 2601, fifty-second congress, second session) to elaborate corroboration of Dr. Wiley's charge that a large portion of whisky is adulterated, polluted and drugged. Therefore, anyone who wants to be sure of his whisky need only examine the cork of the bottle, and if it has not been sealed by such a label as I have described, it has not been "bottled in bond" and the government of the United States does not guarantee its purity.

Millions of Gallons of Bad Whisky.

After the government tax is paid, the owner of a barrel of whisky can do whatever he likes with it. The government does not have any lawful control over it, and there are all kinds of methods of preparing it for market. Section 3244 of the Revised Statutes expressly permits rectifiers to "spuriously imitate" whisky, and the method by which that is done has been described frequently by witnesses who have appeared before different committees of congress from time to time. The subject is always up in one form or another. Honest distillers and dealers are always appealing to congress to protect them against dishonest competitors and to protect the public against adulteration and impurities. But the rectifiers have been too strong for them. The license granted to "spuriously imitate" whisky has never been repealed and last year more than 105,000,000 gallons of raw spirits were "rectified," "blended" or "compounded" in imitation of genuine whisky. The following table, taken from the recent report of the commissioner of internal revenue, shows the comparative amount of whisky "spuriously imitated" and the amount "bottled in bond:"

	Spurious imitations, gallons.	Bottled in bond, gallons.
1898	67,109,373	535,525
1899	67,055,508	400,264
1900	74,508,420	420,713
1901	81,929,714	521,243
1902	89,614,962	535,083
1903	100,366,462	718,440
1904	104,782,502	1,087,396
1905	105,298,963	1,589,439

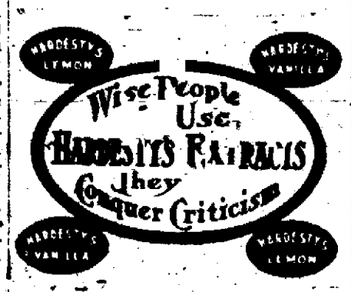
These are startling figures, and Dr. Wiley points to them as confirmation of his sensational statement. He insists that they show that less than 2 per cent of the whisky placed upon the American market and consumed by the American people is genuine, and that the greater part is flavored, colored and otherwise adulterated in order to make it appear like genuine, mature whisky, and it is then branded and sold as genuine. Rectifiers can add any sort of chemicals or drugs, even wood-alcohol, or any other foreign matter under the permission of the federal government. The government permits them to practice any sort of fraud, provided they pay their taxes and take out the required license. There are more than 2,000 establishments engaged in this business, scattered through 24 states. The federal statutes permit them to do anything they please with their whisky, but require them to keep at a distance of 600 or more feet from a distillery.

"No Distillery Needed.

"A rectifier needs no distillery plant nor bonded warehouse," said a gentleman who is familiar with this subject, the other day. "All he needs is a small room, a vat for mixing his spurious imitations, and a shelf to hold his bottles. He gets alcohol from Illinois, oil of Bourbon from Ohio, prune juice from New York, bead oil from Massachusetts, aging oil from Michigan and turns out barrel after barrel of Kentucky whisky twenty years old, although the age of the alcohol is only a few months and of the mixture only a few days."

There are foods and other liquors which need attention as well as "blended" and "compounded" whisky, for much is imported as well as produced in this country. The adulteration of food has become a science, and the honorable profession of chemistry serves false gods for a high profit. The object of the pure food bill is to make every tub stand on its own bottom, to prohibit disguises of all sorts, and to give the public the right to know just exactly what they are buying at their grocer's. Some people prefer adulterations. I have often heard men assert that they would rather eat good oleomargarine than poor butter, and that they would rather drink coffee made from "compounds" than from the genuine berry. But such people ought to have the privilege of knowing exactly what they are eating and drinking. The pure food bill does not, as is frequently asserted, prohibit the manufacture of cheap foods. It only requires manufacturers to place a list of the ingredients upon the wrapper of a package or the label of a bottle, in order to show exactly what it contains.

This pure food bill, like the Vermont maple syrup that is made in Chicago, the jams and jellies that are made of glucose and acid, the confectionery that sells for 25 cents a pound, the chocolate that is half pipe clay, the pepper and spices that are made of almond shells, and other "fancy groceries," as well as "blended whisky," it has been asserted by people who have investigated the subject, that not less than $75,000,000 is paid out annually for adulterated groceries, and Secretary Wilson insists that those who buy this stuff ought to know what they are getting.



A PROBLEM.

There's a whimsey in my noddle,
There's a maggot in my brain.
There's a doubt upon my spirit that I cannot quite explain.

'Tis a grave, important question over which I vacillate,
Does Enlightenment enlighten and does Culture cultivate?

We are of the Cognoscenti, and intuitively know
Just the shades of thoughtful fancy that an author ought to show.

But from our exalted level should we drop a poisoned hint
To the placid ones who wallow in the sordid slums of print?

Should the Unenlightened Readers be sardonically hissed
If they like a Duchess novel better than The Kadist?

Should we rare ones who inhabit the superior realms of thought
Dictate to the Unenlightened what they ought'st or they ought?

To the masses should our classes offer Ibsen when we find
Mr. Caine and Miss Corelli better please the massy mind?

Should we shudder to discover that they cannot get the pith
Of the tenebrastic subtleties of Mr. Meredith?

Should we rudely contradict them when they confidently say,
"Omar wrote the Iliad" and Holmes's first name was "Mary J."?

Or shall we abandon flatly this whole whole altruistic fight
With the philosophic dictum that "Whatever is, is right?"

Then, instead of wasting time in instructing others how to think,
We can spend those precious moments with Hafiz and Maeterlinck.

Let us stop our futile task of pointing to the open door,
Let th' Enlightened cease enlightening and the Culture cult no more.

MORGAN AND PETTUS.

Senators Morgan and Pettus of Alabama both desire to succeed themselves. They constitute a remarkable pair, says the Philadelphia Ledger. General Pettus is 81, and at the expiration of his present term he will be 87, yet he looks forward to still another term. That he would complete this can hardly be reckoned among the probabilities. He has had an active life, not being elected to the senate until 70, an age at which statesmen are wont to regard their usefulness as past. Pettus has a mind as clear as that of any of his colleagues. He is fond of a joke, but is usually serious, dignified and alert. He wastes no words and he wastes no opportunities for the effective use of words. He is respected for his learning, his fairness and his wealth of experience. He is liberal in his views, one of these, of a minor sort, pertaining to the chewing of tobacco.

Senator Morgan is only 81, hale and hearty, one of the great lawyers of the senate. He is also addicted to the chewing of tobacco and his state of temper is revealed by the rapidity or slowness of the process. Mr. Morgan's eye is undimmed and he has the erect carriage of a man in the prime of life. Of late years he has been noted for his advocacy of the Nicaraguan canal as opposed to any other type across the isthmus. When he has a subject in hand he speaks upon it exhaustively and will hold the floor if necessary for a series of days. He is fit for every duty of his place, and the thought that he is with public interests, intellectually considered, Mr. Morgan must be accounted a big man in the senate. Alabama is unique in having two senators both of whom are beyond the fourscore period, but they have conserved bodily and mental vigor and the state loses nothing. They may justly be termed the "grand old men" of the south, and if it be their ambition to die in service they have earned the right to remain at their posts.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better. It is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines, and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking, or eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant-tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and, although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

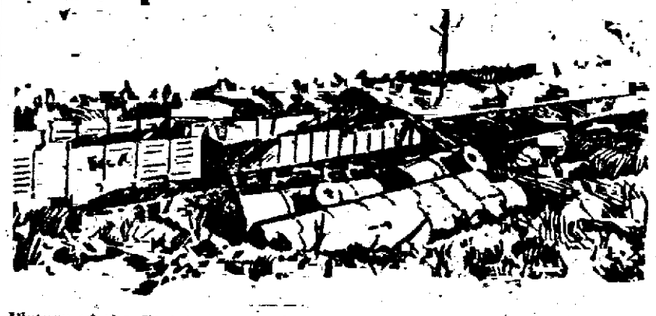
Refinery No. [illegible] completed [illegible] party built and being rushed to specification [illegible] for Refinery No. 3 at Tulsa, I. T., on the banks of the Arkansas, where foundation work will commence in ten days.

Cash paid in for stock and refund [illegible] better than TWO ($2,000) THOUSAND DOLLARS [illegible] FOUR ($429,000) HUNDRED THIRTY-NINE THOUSAND DOLLARS [illegible] and FIVE THOUSAND ($400) FOUR HUNDRED [illegible] besides public sentiment is with the company. [illegible] fields, better invest your mite and use [illegible] pany, as it is the only formidable foe to oil trust [illegible] mountains.

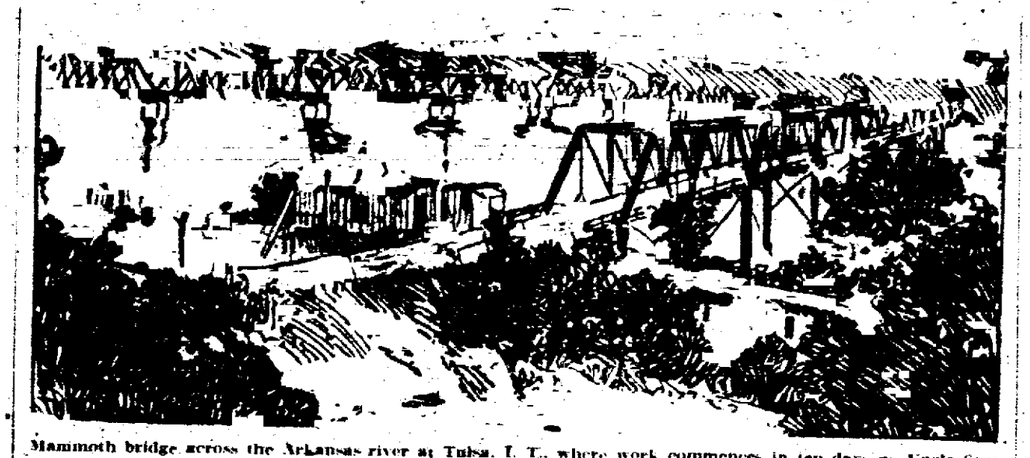
From the Northern Indian Territory oil fields, clear across Kansas from its southern to northern border, a main trunk pipe line will be completed to the banks of the Missouri at Atchison, where, by light steel barges, the great trade centers of Northern and Central Missouri valley states will be reached by river free from oil trust railroads, while from the great refinery soon to be built on the banks of the Arkansas at Tulsa, I. T., Northern refined oil will be built down the Arkansas river to Fort Smith, where barges will be loaded and taken to Little Rock, Arkansas, and on down to the Mississippi river to the Gulf and Uncle Sam sold all over the lower Mississippi valley states where Uncle Sam already has over ONE THOUSAND stockholders to defend its rights and more joining every hour.

Dividends Commence June 20, 1906



Picture of the first two carloads of pumps and boilers for the big river refinery on the banks of the Missouri by Atchison.

When the Uncle Sam company secured the Searle farm on the Missouri river just south of Atchison and encouraged than it would build refinery No. 2 at this location, certain wise guys said the Uncle Sam company would never build the said refinery. Well, it was easy of making good again and of throwing the lie back into the teeth of these birdings. Go on to Atchison now and you will find from ten to twenty men rushing the work on the foundations for the stills and find the foundations for the big tanks and distillate tanks already completed, also office building, water lines and also find several carloads of material on the grounds and more coming. This big river refinery, when fully completed, will have a capacity of FOUR THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED BARRELS per day, and in less than four to six months the main trunk pipe line will be completed to it clear through from Northern Indian territory, and also running through the very heart of the great Kansas oil fields. It will then be no longer possible for the oil trust to cheat the producers out of their oil and to boycott every man who has enough independence to say that right must win. They all look alike to the Westerners and the time is not far distant when justice will prevail in these oil fields and the same medicine meted out to both alike. Uncle Sam company presents a solid lineup for success, supported by a strength that can not be broken down or beaten back. Just as will get on the right side today and send down $5.00, $10.00 or $20.00 and help a good cause to succeed more rapidly and at the same time secure stock that will increase in solid values in the next two years to EIGTHEN TIMES its selling price offered to you in this announcement. $10.00 draft or check sent immediately after reading this will secure you FIVE THOUSAND shares, par value $5,000.00, and the chances are one hundred to one that the stock will be selling at par in less than a year. About one-third of the big river refinery is now shipped, and with the present rapid development this refinery will be ready to refine oil in one hundred days.



Mammoth bridge across the Arkansas river at Tulsa, I. T., where work commences in ten days on Uncle Sam Refinery No. 3.

About three weeks ago the Oil trust made a threat at the [illegible] of the Indian Territory if they did not meet in Kansas City or somewhere else and bring influence to bear on Attorney General Hadley of Missouri to cease prosecution of the oil trust that they would boycott the independents. Immediately thereafter the Uncle Sam company made a proposition to the Commercial club of Tulsa to erect Uncle Sam refinery Number THREE at Tulsa. During the last week negotiations have all been closed and work will commence in ten days on the foundations. Specifications for the refinery have been rushed to Eastern builders and the steel will be on the grounds just as quick as it can be hauled from the manufacturers. The Tulsa Uncle Sam refinery will start July first with a capacity of THREE HUNDRED BARRELS every twenty-four hours and will be increased to SIX HUNDRED BARRELS daily in ninety days from July first. Distributing stations will be located in every principal city in both Oklahoma and Indian Territory and a refined oil line built to Fort Smith and the refinery increased until when fully completed will have a capacity of TEN THOUSAND BARRELS per day. The man or men who think the Uncle Sam company is going to stop with a small capacity will see his mistake inside of two years. Don't wait until Uncle Sam has TEN THOUSAND stockholders and a MILLION DOLLARS cash back of it and until it increases its capacity to over EIGHTEEN THOUSAND barrels of oil per day, and then expect to buy this stock even at $5.00 per share. Remember the stock is being sold. Every day now the completion of the chain of Three big refineries with pipe line connections will be marching nearer success. Now is the day for you to act. Either mail draft or check today or write or wire for full particulars. Uncle Sam company has at Tulsa one tract of TWELVE ACRES, plus a block on the river front right at the base of three bridges, besides TWENTY-SEVEN TOWN lots. This property was furnished by the citizens of Tulsa. Besides this the company holds an option on three acres more. The company will have a river depot for small barges from Tulsa four months out of the year, and there are some of the largest gas wells in the West in and around Tulsa. A gas line runs within three hundred feet of where the company will commence work. Gas and oil on every side of Tulsa for from thirty to fifty miles. The most of the production is very high grade, worth 15 to 20 cents per barrel above other oil. The field has only been scratched, and by a little development a production of several thousand barrels per day can be secured in a radius of five or six miles from the refinery location.

Laying Uncle Sam Pipe Line Across Neosho River.

The above picture was taken near Neosho Falls, Kas., about two weeks ago, as the Uncle Sam pipe line men completed the pipe line across the river. At this point it is just about sixty miles due north of Cherryvale. Since then about four miles more of the main trunk pipe line has been completed. Completing of this pipe line to the Missouri river will make this company independent and free. Better send down a hundred dollars or so and help the good work along. This company is making a square fight as can be proved from the books. Money invested goes to buy more pipe and more refinery material. Every day more pipe line will be completed until the company has with 300 miles in main trunk lines and laterals to the different oil fields.

Write or Wire for Further Particulars and Pictures and Reports of the Oil Fields and Refinery

Space will not permit us to enter into further detail relative to the giant strength of the Uncle Sam company. However, the company has complete reports and several pictures of the oil fields and the refinery work which we will be glad to send to you. You should not delay a single hour after reading this announcement until you write for more full particulars or remit for your stock, as this stock is going to be sold. Hundreds of investors have paid this price for the stock several weeks ago. It may be advanced any day and you had just as well secure some of it as to let someone else secure what you want.

Uncle Sam Company Should Build Up to a Daily Capacity in Two Years of Eighteen Thousand Barrels Per Day

This company does not intend to even try to make one-half of the wrongful gains now being stolen by the methods of the present oil trust. However, there can be great profits earned without working a hardship on anyone. This shall be the policy of Uncle Sam. You can depend on a square deal if you join our hand and help the good fight along. There is no reason why Uncle Sam, with the three refineries forming a chain of refineries from the Arkansas to the Missouri, can not in a very short time build up to over EIGHTEEN THOUSAND barrels of crude oil daily. The company will go forward very fast in a very few months [illegible] who are be sold and will grow in value by leaps and bounds while you sleep. The time to get in is now. We wish to state further that it is probable for this stock to go past THREE DOLLARS per share. At any rate, the future is a bright one and worthy the consideration of any business man.

Will Benefit the Citizens of the Central West

The oil trust, through a few slick-tongued orators at the oil fields, have repeatedly misrepresented the value of Kansas and Indian territory oil. They get interviews into newspapers by deception and knock the Uncle Sam company and every other independent enterprise, but the people are getting onto them, and the time is not far distant when Kansas and Oklahoma will be too warm a place for them. Better join our hand today and thereby help the true interests of home industries and home people as against those who would barter the rights of home people away.

Can You Afford to Turn Down an Investment in This Growing Enterprise?

As you will notice by the following quotations on stock, as many shares, when sold, will pay for so many rods of main trunk pipe line. It is very important to complete this pipe line, and a special effort will be made to have it completed by the time the big river plant is ready to receive oil. Of course, if the line is not entirely completed the company will use tank cars from the nearest railroad station at the end of the completed pipe line, and make the big pipe line a big payer from the word go every mile of pipe line completed knocks off that much freight. We think that we can certainly pay for TWENTY MILES of this pipe line each month, and we base our calculations on the results from the past, when the company was not one-hundredth as strong as it is today. The offer on stock is as follows, and following each quotation is the number of rods of pipe line your remittance will enable the company to buy:

$1,320 will pay for one mile of the main trunk pipe line, and buys 7,000 shares, par value $7,000
$700 will pay for over ½ mile, and buys 3,500 shares, par value $3,500
$500 will pay for nearly ½ mile, and buys 2,500 shares, par value $2,500
$300 will pay for nearly ¼ mile, and buys 1,500 shares, par value $1,500
$200 will pay for nearly 1-8 mile, and buys 1,000 shares, par value $1,000
$100 will pay for over 1-12 mile, and buys 500 shares, par value ..... $ 500
$50 will pay for ten joints, and buys 250 shares, par value ..... $ 250
$20 will pay for four joints, and buys 100 shares, par value ..... $ 100

MONTHLY PAYMENT OFFER

In addition to the Uncle Sam company selling its treasury stock at the above cash prices, the company also makes the following monthly payment offer, so that investors of limited means can secure part of the present allotment before a big advance occurs, which is certain to come. Offer is as follows:

SPECIAL OFFERS

For a Few Days the Company Will Sell Stock in Fifteen Thousand (15,000) Lots Par Value $15,000—for $2,800 Cash.

This amount of money will pay for considerably over two miles of main trunk pipe line. Where a club of men go together the company will issue stock as directed in amounts of [illegible] and [illegible] each certificates—just as directed.

SPECIAL INSTALLMENT OFFER

Fifteen thousand (15,000) shares for $25 cash and six monthly payments of $400 each. The chances are ten to one that long before you have the six payments made, the value of your stock will have increased double, and be selling at close to 30 cents per share, if not higher.

In Conclusion

The charter name of this company is "The Uncle Sam Oil Company." Its authorized capitalization is TEN MILLION SHARES. Par value, one dollar each. Every share of stock draws the same amount of dividends as any other share. The officers of the company are: James Ingersoll, President; J. H. Ritchie, Vice President, and H. H. Tucker, jr., Secretary and Treasurer. These men also constitute the Board of Directors. All of the stock of the company has been sold for cash or its equivalent from the start. You can not buy a single share from a single one of the above named officers under $1.00 per share; in fact, their stock is not for sale at any price. The management is the same now as in the beginning—the old guard are in the traces working harder than ever. This stock is offered for sale and being sold to buy pipe line and machinery for the river refinery. When you invest for stock your money goes into the enterprise to make the very stock you buy more valuable. The company is in touch with over TEN THOUSAND investors by special letter report. This announcement will appear in the principal and influential papers in the United States—will be read by over TWENTY MILLION PEOPLE. The company is a straight, legitimate enterprise, one that is already a far greater success than even the most enthusiastic expected on the start. References—Montgomery County National bank, People's National bank and Cherryvale State bank, all of Cherryvale, Kan. The company has several pictures of the refinery at Cherryvale and different views of the oil fields, which it will send with other information to investors who wish further information. The company is so well advertised and has so many working for it that, without a doubt, the stock will soon be sold, and investors would do well to not delay in securing the stock you want, as the company is one of great merit, and the price of the stock, with the assets back of it, offers every man an investment that he must admit is good, and far above the ordinary proposition. You will hardly have an opportunity again to invest with a company like this. It was born of necessity, on account of the blacklist by the oil trust of certain producing properties in the Cherryvale oil fields. It is backed by influential men in both state and nation, and if you join our band now, over five thousand strong, you will be treated fairly, and, we sincerely believe, will secure stock now at twenty cents per share, or one-fifth of its par value, that will go to par in less than a year. The company realizes that it must offer a great investment and great inducements to raise money as fast as we need it, but we'll make it all back in a few months with main trunk pipe line and river refinery completed. We solicit your investment in good faith, and the statements made herein we can back with proof.

EQUITABLE STATEMENT

$9,652,437 Charged off in 1905 for Losses.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The trustees of the Equitable Life Assurance society today elected John M. Beach, of the Tefft-Weller Dry Goods corporation, a member of the board. There were no other changes, all the officers and standing committees holding over pending the receipt of the report of the committee on by-laws. The annual statement of the society presented to the trustees shows that $9,652,467 was charged off during the year for losses.

The expenses incurred in connection with the several examinations of the society in 1905, including reserve of $250,000, amounted to $502,152. The total receipts for the year (including $8,425,038 for adjustment of book values on stocks and bonds) amounted to $89,105,319, and the total disbursements and losses to $64,761,752, an excess of profit over disbursements and loss of $24,343,567.

The statement of assets and liabilities shows total assets of $420,973,756. The total liabilities are $352,516,566, leaving a surplus of $68,457,590. This surplus includes the reserve for distribution on deferred dividend accumulation period. The society's total outstanding assurance is $1,465,123,136. New assurance taken during the year amounted to $[illegible] less than in 1904.

A supplementary statement issued from the office of President Paul Morton reads:

"Although the extraordinary expenses for the various examinations of the society were in excess of $500,000, yet the decrease in total expenses amounted to over $1,000,000. In a word the ratio of the expenses of the society for 1905 was 15.48 per cent as against 18.57 per cent in 1904."

TWO KILLED IN RIOT.

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill., Feb. 28.—As the result of a drunken riot here last night, two men are dead and two others are in jail. C. E. Dodd and J. W. Murphy, while intoxicated, started the trouble by annoying a crowd of passengers in the depot. They were ejected, but returned, when shooting was begun.

Several shots were fired. One man was shot in the mouth and died instantly. The dead men are strangers. Dodd and Murphy were arrested.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES.

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Ills of Colorado Springs People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are directed to the kidneys and cure every kidney ill. Colorado Springs cures are the proof.

This is to certify that I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to be all that is claimed for them by the manufacturers. They certainly had marvelous beneficial results in my case, and everybody suffering with kidney trouble should give them a trial.

OIL DRAWING GOES ON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 28.—John Burrows, testifying here in the Missouri ouster proceedings, said that while in the employ of the Standard Oil company he was sent to Mississippi by the Waters-Pierce Oil company to attend to its turpentine, rosin and naval stores business. Judge Johnson, for the defense, asked:

"Who sent you?"

"The Waters-Pierce company and the Standard."

"Who got the goods?"

"The same companies."

"What was the purpose of your visit?"

"To see all the turpentine refiners and buy up the product."

"Where was it shipped?"

"To the Standard Oil company and the Waters-Pierce company."

"How do you know it was shipped to the Standard Oil company?"

"Because I paid the freight bills for it."

J. A. Brown, ex-agent of the Waters-Pierce company at Newkirk, Okla., testified that he had orders never to sell any oil in Kansas, though some of the Kansas towns were only eight miles distant. He also said that all of the oil received at his station came from the Whiting refinery of the Standard. All of the oil which was sold by him had the Standard brands on it. E. T. Hathaway, for twenty-four years manager of this division for the Waters-Pierce company, when asked as to relations between the Standard company and the Waters-Pierce company, declined to answer on advice of counsel.

CHINA WILL MAKE ALL REASONABLE AMENDS

PEKING, Feb. 28.—The government has instructed the governor of Nanchang, province of Kiangsi, where on February 25, six French Jesuits and four British subjects were killed, to punish severely all participants in the massacre, and declares its willingness to make, without question, any reasonable reparation demanded. Many foreigners at Peking know the governor of Nanchang and consider him efficient and friendly. They believe his version of the troubles and credit his statement, that he was unable to prevent the disturbance. American, British and German gunboats are proceeding to the nearest possible point to Nanchang. River navigation is seldom safe beyond Poyang lake. British and German gunboats have been stationed at the lake for the last two years, despite frequent Chinese protests that it was an infringement of China's sovereignty.

DURNOVO GETS SETBACK

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—The reactionary policy of Interior Minister Durnovo received another decided setback today, when the action of the St. Petersburg police in closing the central bureau of the constitutional democrats was disowned by the government and the bureau was allowed to be reopened and the police were ordered to abstain from further interfering with the campaign work of the party.

This flagrant attempt to interfere with the elections, which is condemned even by the conservative parties, is generally ascribed to M. Durnovo without whose authority the police would hardly have dared to take such action in the capital. The event revives the rumor of Durnovo's approaching retirement which a trusted subordinate of Premier Witte today said was certain to occur as soon as the national assembly meets, and which might be expected sooner.

The plans of the social revolutionists to interfere with the elections in St. Petersburg, have been broken up by the arrest of another large batch of agitators, among them being twelve Jews and two Germans. The police have also arrested the man who threw the bomb which broke up the loyalist meeting on the Schlusselburg embankment, February 9. He is accused of a number of political murders. The weekly official report of political crimes throughout the empire shows that bomb throwing and robbery are still in full swing, and especially in Poland, at Odessa and in the Caucasus. The most atrocious case was at Brest, government of Grodno, where revolutionists locked four policemen in a house, poured petroleum on the building and set it on fire.

A SEVERE COLD FOR THREE MONTHS

The following letter from A. J. Nusbaum of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold, as druggist prepared me some medicine and a physician prescribed for me, but I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar, and eight doses cured me." Refuse substitutes. For sale by the Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co.

DECLINES HARD TO ACCOUNT FOR

NO DEVELOPMENTS IN CONDITION TO WARRANT HEAVY LIQUIDATION AND VIOLENT SLUMP.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—There were no developments in conditions today to account for the heavy liquidation and the violent declines in prices which occurred in the stock market. An active demand developed for money and there were considerable withdrawals of credits for the stock market. But it is not probable that restrictions on credits were large enough to force liquidation in any proposition to the unusual selling which occurred. The rise in money rates, however, and the selling which was induced, proved amply sufficient to topple over a market which had become topheavy and easily vulnerable by a progressive growth of distrust over the level of prices ruling and the means which have been employed to achieve that level.

A number of the projects which have been subject to industrious rumor in the stock market and the motives for such active advances and the largest speculative buying have come into distrust and, in some cases, actual discredit within the last few days. An important instance is the project for the purchase of the Oregon lands held by the Great Northern Railroad company in the interest of the United States Steel corporation. The accomplishment of this project has been accepted as a certainty, although no authentic or official information on its terms have ever been given the public. Reports in the last two days of a hitch in the negotiations have aroused a fear that the project might fall through. But the effect of these reports on the prices of stocks concerned in the project discloses a realization on the part of the speculative operators that the price movements in them has been extravagant and beyond anything warranted by the promise of the actual accomplishment of the proposed projects.

The action of the copper and metal stocks shows the results of similar conditions in the speculation. The formation of the Butte Coalition Mining company and the taking over of the opposition copper properties in Montana in the interest of the Amalgamated Copper company were recognized as inadequate grounds for the extent of the speculative advances in the stocks concerned. Rumor has continued busy in an effort to sustain prices with the alleged further projects since the Montana settlement and skepticism over the grounds of these rumors has been gaining force. Similar cases on a minor scale might be cited at various points in the list of active securities. When the money supply grew restricted today and active efforts had to be made to secure funds by speculative holders of securities thus situated, it was found that a keen discrimination was used against them as collateral for lending money. The usual margins demanded on the market value of securities in the amount of the loans were widely extended and in some cases it was reported that such stocks were thrown out as collateral altogether.

The banking situation in New York offered ample explanation for the action of the money market, the absorption of funds by subtreasury operations alone since the last bank statement amounting to more than the surplus reserves of the banks as it stood last Saturday, which was $5,125,725. Interior centers also are withdrawing funds from New York. The requirements for the March 1 settlements necessitate some large borrowing and the centering of this demand on the restricted banking supplies left the stock market speculators without means to hold their stocks. The only relief to be had was by liquidation.

The sharp yielding in the foreign exchange market showed that some resort was making to foreign money centers for accommodation. That it was not sufficient to carry through the situation was amply evident from the result. The course of the money market for some time past has pointed to this outcome, but speculative operators have ignored it owing to confidence in the precedent of the market last December when a 125 per cent rate for call money failed to shake the market. The liquidation seemed to have spent much of its force in the late dealings, but the nervous fluctuations at the last were not far from the low level of the day. Losses in some of the stocks most severely affected ran to 10 and 12 points, while the declines ranged very generally between one and five points.

Bonds were weak. Total sales, par value, $2,630,000.

United States 2s, registered, advanced ¼ per cent on call.

GRAIN MARKET IS WEAK AGAIN

TRADERS INCLINE TOWARD SELLING SIDE—WHEAT AND CORN OFF—OATS QUIET AND STEADY.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Despite higher prices at Liverpool, the market was weak the greater part of the day. Notwithstanding numerous reports of crop damage from Kansas and Nebraska, traders generally were inclined to the selling side of the market and about the only support came from shorts. Several prominent commission houses were persistent sellers throughout the session. The reasons for the bearish feeling were the rapid increase of stocks of wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth and unusually slack demand for flour at the principal flour markets and the fact that primary receipts for the day were 490,000 bushels against 366,000 bushels for the corresponding day of last year ago. Moderate weather in the winter wheat belt also contributed somewhat toward lower prices. The market closed weak with price almost at the lowest point of the day. May opened ¼ higher to ¼ lower, at 81⅛@¼, sold off to 81⅛ and closed at 81⅛@⅛.

The corn market was steady during the first hour because of small local receipts and a slight advance at Liverpool. But later sales by cash houses weakened the market and at the close prices were almost at the lowest point of the day. A decline of ⅜ to ½c in the price of cash corn had a depressing effect on options. May opened a shade higher at 43⅜, sold between 43⅛ and 43⅜@½ and closed at 43⅛@43¼.

Trading in oats was quiet and the market steady. May opened unchanged to a shade higher at 30½@⅝, to 30⅜, sold off to 30⅛@⅜ and closed at 30⅜@½.

Provisions were firm and prices showed moderate advances. At the close May pork was unchanged at $15.47½. Lard was up 2½c at $7.30. Ribs were a shade higher at $8.12½@$8.15.

FEBRUARY OUTPUT SHOWS DECREASE

FALLING OFF DUE TO LARGE AMOUNT OF "DEAD" WORK. MILL AND SMELTER FIGURES GIVEN.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 28.—Production in the Cripple Creek district for February was $1,450,500. The output was less than in January, but perhaps the main cause was the fact that never before in the history of the camp was there so much development and "dead" work being done, especially in the larger mines. The following figures show the amount of ore handled by mills and smelters:

Plant.	Tons.	Av. Val.	Tot. Val.
Smelters	9,000	$60	$540,000
U. S. R. & R.	24,000	25	525,000
Doctor	2,300	25	57,500
Portland	8,800	21	201,800
Santa Rita	400	6	2,400
Anaconda	2,000	1.50	3,000
Economic	4,000	25	115,000
	47,700		$1,450,500

The January production was 52,600 tons, with a gross value of $1,338,000.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 28.—The Last Dollar Gold Mining company is beginning to sink its shaft an additional 100 feet, making the total depth 1,460 feet. Good ore is exposed at the bottom of the 1,360-foot level. The company will explore the lower level and drift toward the Five Points lease.

The great flow of water expected by the El Paso company in its 1,000-foot level when the C. K. & N. vein was struck, did not appear. There was an immense body of ore in the upper workings of the C. K. & N., and that company had to suspend operations on account of the water. The El Paso company is working three shifts of men on the vein and it does not appear that water will give trouble.

Roland Valentine Gorglein, an old prospector living near Glenbrook, 10 miles south of Victor, has made a discovery of a 20-inch vein of black hematite, carrying values of $8 in gold to the ton. The hematite is valuable to smelters for fluxing purposes. It is close to the railroad and its discoverer thinks it can be loaded and shipped for 50 cents a ton.

RAW OR INFLAMED LUNGS

Yield rapidly to the wonderful curative and healing qualities of Foley's Honey and Tar. It prevents pneumonia and consumption from a hard cold settled on the lungs. "My daughter had a terrible cough settled on her lungs," says N. Jackson of Danville, Ill. "We tried a great many remedies without relief, until we gave her Foley's Honey and Tar, which cured her." For sale by the Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co.

GREAT CANALS AS PANIC CAUSES.

"The effect of opening the Suez canal," writes W. R. Stewart in the March Technical World Magazine, "was so marked in the first confusion which it introduced into the business world that it constituted one of the prime causes of the universal commercial and industrial panic of 1873.

"By transferring the distributing points for trade from England to the Mediterranean ports of southern Europe, it terminated the vast warehouse distribution system of the former country, and led to the disappearance of the class of merchant princes who hitherto had monopolized the eastern traffic. As it was with the owners of English warehouses, so it was with the owners of hundreds of sailing vessels and the dealers in six months' bills. For the Suez canal, by bringing steamers into use in place of the sailing vessels which had been making the 5,000 mile longer voyage around the cape, enabled a cargo to be sold and delivered within a month after the order had been sent, and business men without capital were able to borrow money at a low rate and supplant the old established houses in the eastern trade."

SHOEMAKING ALDERMEN.

Nine workmen in the shoe factory of William L. Douglas, former governor of Massachusetts, are members of the Brockton, Mass., city government. Among them are Mayor Bradford, three of the seven aldermen and one member of the common council.

A woman who appeared in a London police court the other day was described as a "pawning agent." She makes her living by pawning things for her neighbors, who pay her a commission because they believe she can secure larger loans than they could.

COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Trading on the mining exchange yesterday was confined chiefly to the mines. Gold Sovereign was most in demand, 12,000 shares being transferred at 8½ cents. A bunch of 8,250 shares of Isabella was sold at 27½, a half cent weaker than on Tuesday. Anaconda was stronger, selling at 14 cents, at which 3,000 shares were sold off. In the prospects, Little Puck made the best showing, 11,000 shares being taken at 2½ to 2¾ cents. The market was featureless, no heavy orders being out. Total sales, 69,000 shares, cash values, $8,000.

VIEWINGS OF A GENTLE GENIUS.

Dairy for money and report of leisure.

All that glitters isn't inspired by the golden rule.

The grass widow should make hay while the sun shines.

Industry is the watchdog that keeps the wolf from the door.

When the new baby comes it necessitates a fresh heir fund.

It is hard for a man to stand on his dignity in a crowded car.

The messenger boy may have his failings, but he is never for the fast set.

A great deal of silvery laughter is filtered through a mouthful of gold teeth.

Many a girl has broken off her engagement to a fellow because of his kiss, and many another because of his presents—to some other girl.

It's a wise man who says nothing at the right time.

It doesn't pay to stub a man who owes you money.

The honesty of lots of men has never been tested.

The shadow of suspicion generally has something behind it.

Many vain regrets are concealed in the stubs of check books.

A matrimonial storm will curdle even the milk of human kindness.

A woman opens a telegram much as a child opens a jack-in-the-box.

A girl never marries the best man, which may be the reason so many of them marry the wrong man.

DON'T LOSE SLEEP

Sleep is nature's safeguard against the wrecking of the mind and body. Tired, exhausted nerves rob you of sleep. They will not allow the brain to relax, and throw off the worry and care of the day. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, by their soothing influence upon the nerves, bring refreshing sleep. Keep them convenient for immediate use and you'll have no sleep 2 doses, 25c. Never sold in bulk.

CHAMPION CONVERSATIONAL TALKER.

Littlefield, of Maine, is the champion talker of the house. He rattles off his words faster than an auctioneer calling for bids, and in very much the same manner. When interrupting another man's speech he has a way of emphasizing his words syllable by syllable, and with each syllable he snaps his head forward as if to break his own neck. For instance: "The president's power is soup-ream." When he said that the other day he nearly cracked the desk in front of him with his head when he said "soup" and again when he said "cream."

DOCTORS ARE PUZZLED

The remarkable recovery of Kenneth McIrvin of Vancouver, Mo., is the subject of much interest to the medical fraternity and a wide circle of friends. He says of his case: "Owing to severe inflammation of the Throat and congestion of the Lungs, three doctors gave me up to die when, as a last resort, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and I am happy to say it saved my life." Cures the worst Coughs and Colds, Bronchitis, Tonsilitis, Weak Lungs, Hoarseness and La Grippe. Guaranteed at the Heffley-Armstrong Drug Co.'s store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

IT REQUIRES BRAINS to conduct a great hotel—executive ability of a high order. And it requires the same kind of ability—only in a lesser degree, probably—to conduct a SUCCESSFUL boarding house. In both cases Gazette publicity is as necessary as light, or heat, or food.

BEGIN WORK—J. H. Douglas, contractor from Chicago, is preparing to begin building the amusement park at Cheyenne Springs ranch, as planned by Alderman John J. Coughlin of the Windy city and announced by The Gazette several weeks ago. Sites for the different structures have been chosen and the builders will be busy this week.

ECLIPSE—The observatory at Colorado college will be open to those who wish to see the eclipse of the star Aldebaran, which will occur between 8 and 9 o'clock Friday evening.

WATER RENTS—February was a record month for receipts in the city water department. At the close of business yesterday Commissioner R. C. Bradfield had collected $8,873.20. The receipts of this department for February, 1905, amounted to only $7,568.

IS CRITICAL—The condition of Frank Marlo, who was removed to St. Francis hospital Tuesday after having swallowed a quantity of Paris green, was still considered serious at a late hour last night. Marlo is reported to be in pain and growing weaker from the effects of the poison.

Because we have THREE graduates of pharmacy to compound them and the three are men! not boys.

Because we have the most complete stock of pure drugs and chemicals in the city.

Because our prescription department is always open for inspection.

There are four, five and one-quarter and four and one-half yard lengths, both edges and insertions. While they last they are marked at a saving of ⅓ to ½
